

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. the 1990s, the number of people with a mental health problem has increased by 50% (Mental Health Foundation, 2000).

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the needs of people with mental health problems, and the importance of providing them with appropriate services. This has led to a number of initiatives, including the development of mental health services, the establishment of mental health trusts, and the implementation of mental health legislation. The aim of this paper is to review the current state of mental health services in the UK, and to discuss the challenges facing them in the future.

The paper is organized as follows. First, we discuss the current state of mental health services in the UK. We then discuss the challenges facing mental health services in the future. Finally, we discuss the implications of our findings for policy and practice.

The current state of mental health services in the UK is characterized by a number of challenges. These include the need to address the needs of people with mental health problems, the importance of providing them with appropriate services, and the need to address the needs of the community.

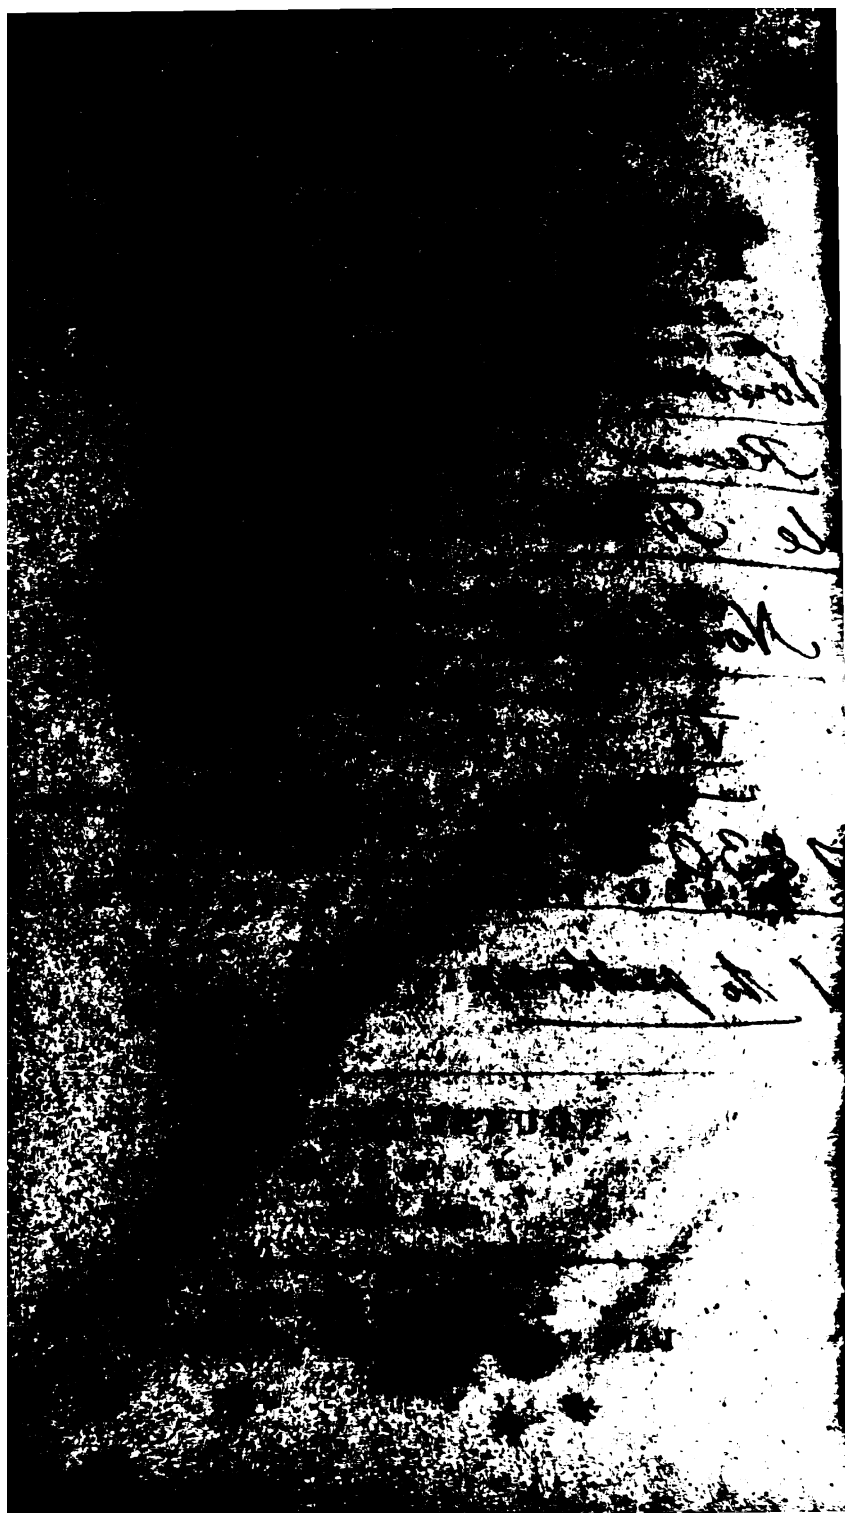

The need to address the needs of people with mental health problems is a major challenge. This is because mental health problems are a major cause of disability and social exclusion. People with mental health problems often experience difficulties in finding employment, housing, and social support.

The importance of providing people with mental health problems with appropriate services is another major challenge. This is because people with mental health problems often experience difficulties in accessing services, and in receiving the services they need. This can lead to a number of problems, including the development of more serious mental health problems, and the need for hospitalization.

The need to address the needs of the community is a third major challenge. This is because mental health problems can have a significant impact on the community. People with mental health problems often experience difficulties in finding employment, housing, and social support. This can lead to a number of problems, including the development of more serious mental health problems, and the need for hospitalization.

The challenges facing mental health services in the future are therefore significant. These include the need to address the needs of people with mental health problems, the importance of providing them with appropriate services, and the need to address the needs of the community. It is therefore essential that we develop strategies to address these challenges.

One of the key strategies for addressing these challenges is the development of mental health services. This involves the establishment of mental health trusts, and the implementation of mental health legislation. The aim of this paper is to review the current state of mental health services in the UK, and to discuss the challenges facing them in the future.

The following information was obtained from the records of the Bureau of Customs and Border Protection, Department of Homeland Security, regarding the entry of the vessel "M/V Huron" into the United States on or about the date of the incident. The vessel was registered in the State of Michigan and was carrying a cargo of lumber. The vessel was accompanied by a crew of approximately 10 persons. The vessel was stopped by the U.S. Coast Guard and the U.S. Customs and Border Protection. The vessel was found to be in violation of the provisions of the Customs and Border Protection Act, 19 U.S.C. 1622, which prohibits the entry of a vessel into the United States without the proper documentation. The vessel was detained and the crew was interviewed. The results of the investigation are being reviewed by the U.S. Coast Guard and the U.S. Customs and Border Protection.

The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that every entry must be clearly documented, including the date, amount, and purpose of the transaction. This ensures transparency and allows for easy verification of the data.

Furthermore, the document outlines the procedures for handling discrepancies. If there is a difference between the recorded amount and the actual amount, it is crucial to investigate the cause immediately. This could be due to a clerical error, a miscommunication, or a fraudulent activity. Once the cause is identified, appropriate corrective actions should be taken to prevent such errors from recurring.

The second part of the document focuses on the security of the records. It states that all records must be stored in a secure location, protected from unauthorized access. This includes physical security measures, such as locking the storage area, and digital security measures, such as using strong passwords and encryption for electronic records.

Regular audits are also recommended to ensure the integrity of the records. These audits should be conducted at regular intervals and should involve a review of the records against the original source documents. Any discrepancies found during the audit should be reported to the appropriate authorities for further investigation.

In conclusion, the document stresses the importance of maintaining accurate, secure, and auditable records. By following the guidelines outlined in this document, organizations can ensure the reliability of their financial data and protect themselves from potential risks.

THE HISTORY OF THE CITY OF BOSTON

From its first settlement in 1630 to the present time. By SAMUEL JOHNSON, Esq. of the Middle Temple, Barrister at Law. In two Volumes. The first Volume contains the History from 1630 to 1700. The second Volume contains the History from 1700 to the present time. Printed and Sold by S. JOHNSON, at the Sign of the Sun in Pall-mall, 1790.

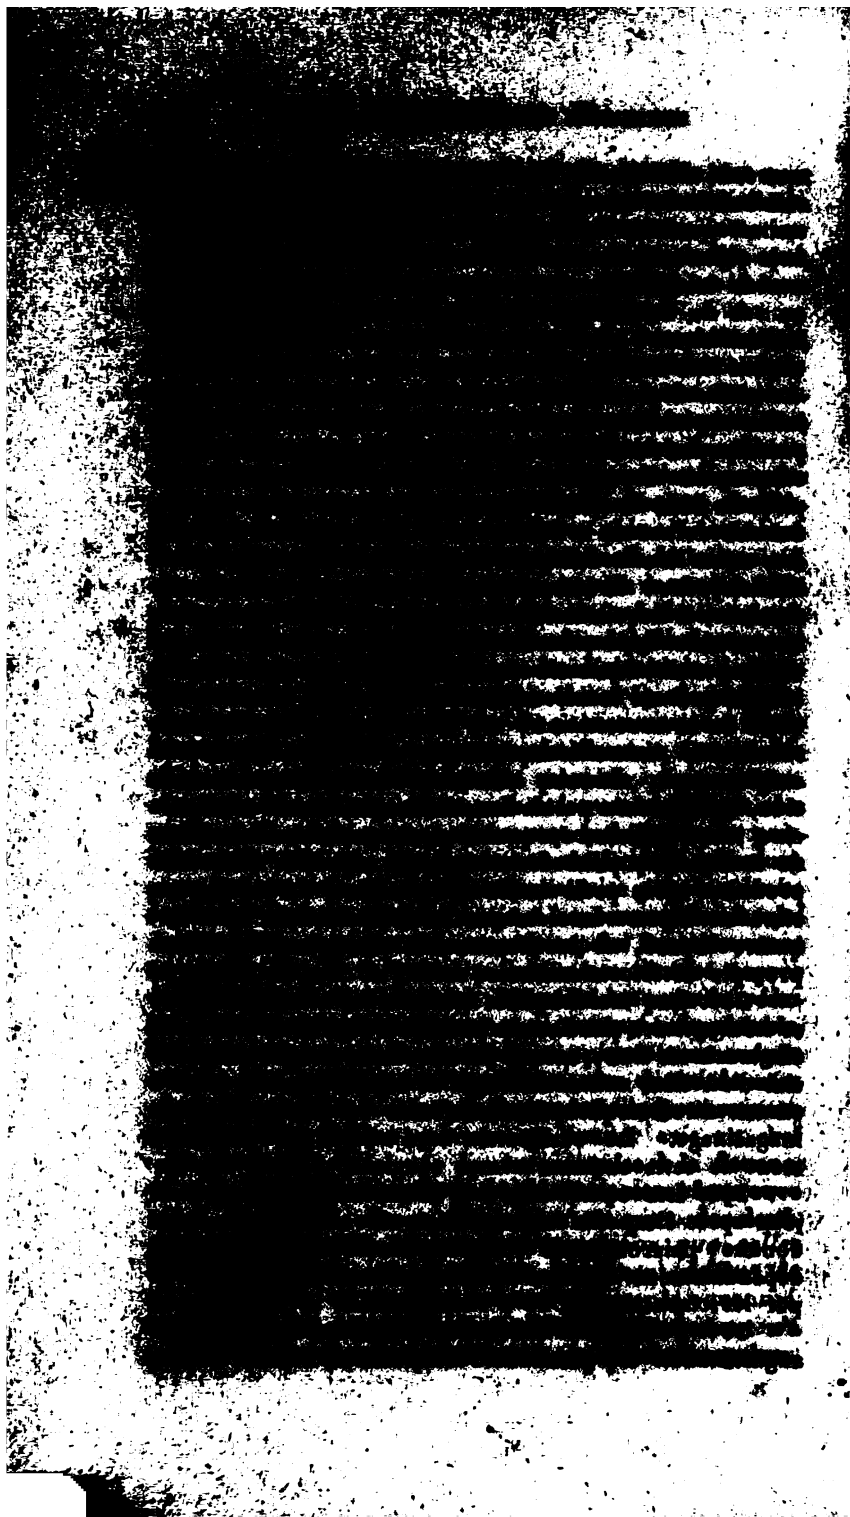

The History of the City of Boston, from its first settlement in 1630 to the present time, is a subject of great interest and importance. It is a subject which has attracted the attention of many of the most distinguished historians of the United States. The history of Boston is a history of the struggle for liberty and independence, and it is a history which has shaped the destiny of the nation. The city of Boston was founded by a group of Puritan settlers who came to the New World in search of a place where they could live in accordance with their religious beliefs. They were led by John Winthrop, who gave the city the name of Boston in honor of his friend, the English statesman John Winthrop. The city grew rapidly, and by the middle of the 17th century it was one of the most important cities in the New England colonies. It was the center of the Puritan movement, and it was from here that many of the leaders of the American Revolution emerged. The city was the site of the Boston Tea Party, and it was here that the first shots of the American Revolution were fired. The city of Boston has a rich and varied history, and it is a city which has played a major role in the development of the United States. The history of Boston is a history of the struggle for liberty and independence, and it is a history which has shaped the destiny of the nation.

The first of these is the fact that the government has been unable to raise the
 necessary funds to meet its obligations.
 This is due to a combination of factors,
 including a decline in tax revenue and
 an increase in government spending.
 The second factor is the high level of inflation, which has eroded the value of the government's assets and liabilities.
 Finally, the government has been unable to implement effective policies to reduce its debt and improve its financial position.
 These factors have led to a situation of financial crisis, which has had a significant impact on the economy and the lives of the people.

(Acts and Resolutions passed at the third Session of the 25 Congress of the United States. Washingt. 1839. Append. p. 14).

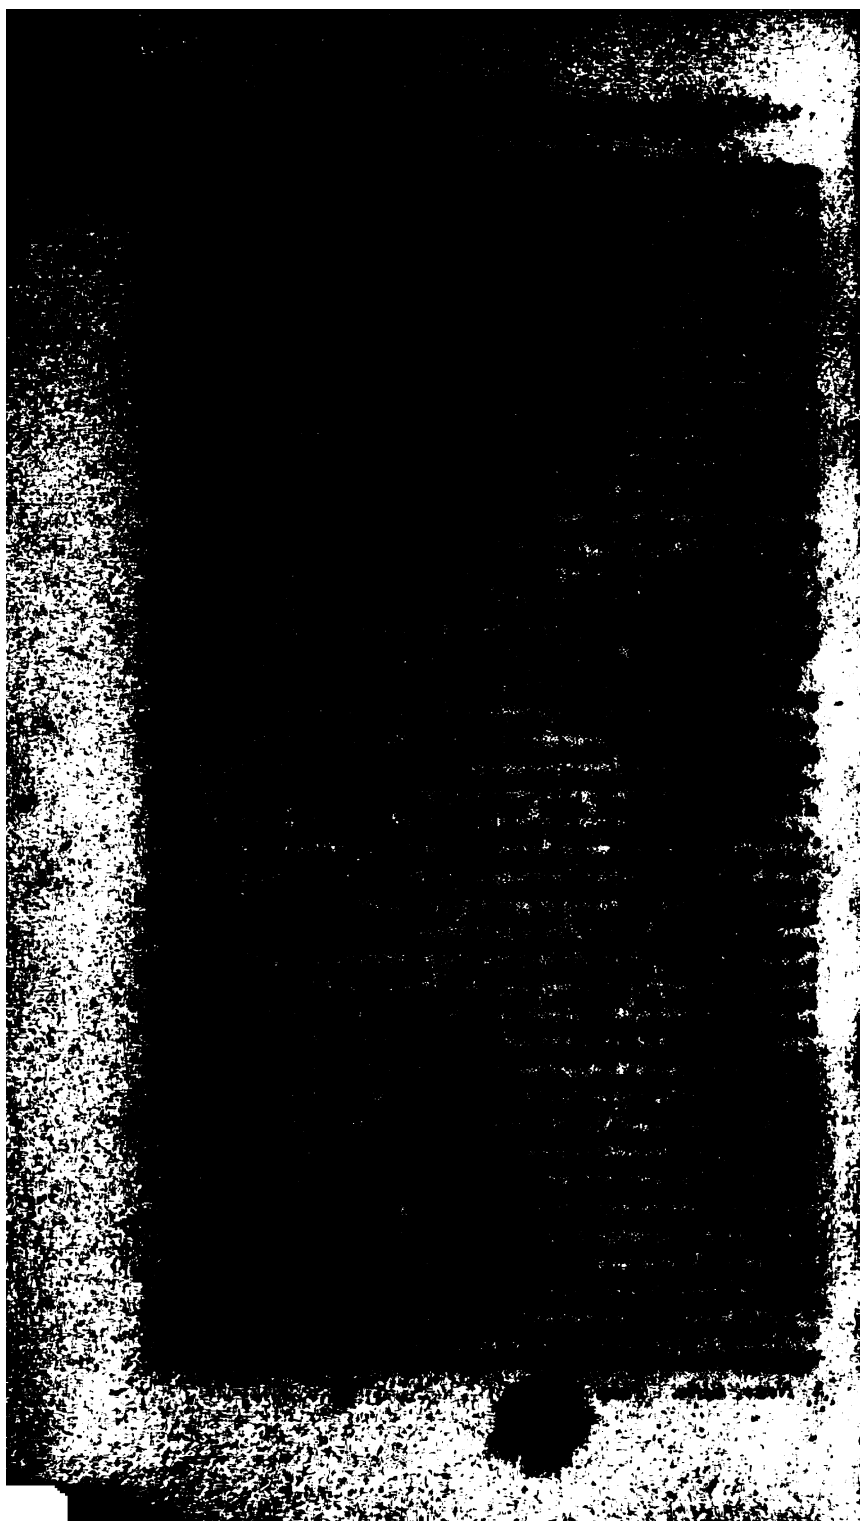

The United States of America and the Peru-Bolivian Confederation, desiring to make firm and permanent the peace and friendship which happily subsist between them, have resolved to fix, in a clear, distinct and positive manner, the rules which shall in future be religiously observed between the one and the other, by means of a Treaty or general convention of peace, friendship, commerce and navigation.

For this desirable purpose, the President of the United States of America has conferred full powers on Samuel Larned, Chargé d'Affaires of the said States near the government of Peru; and the Supreme Protector of the north and south Peruvian States, President of the Republic of Bolivia, encharged with the direction of the foreign relations of the Peru-Bolivian Confederation, has conferred like powers on John Garcia del Rio Minister of State in the Department of Finance of the North-Peruvian State; who, after having exhibited to each other their respective full powers, found to be in due and proper form,

The document contains several pages of extremely faint, illegible text, likely from a historical manuscript or printed work. The text is too dark and blurry to transcribe accurately.

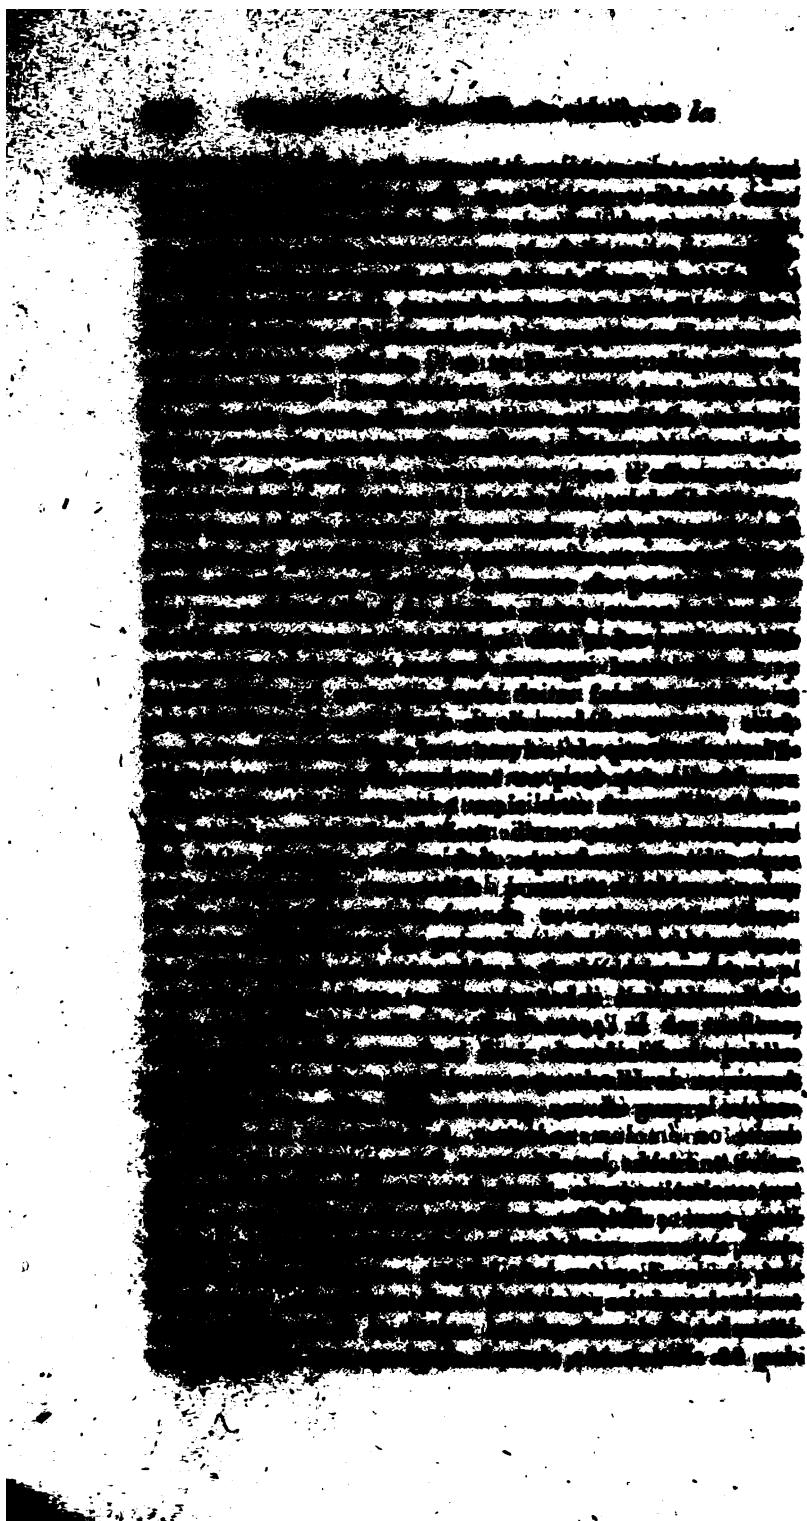

The following information was obtained from a review of the records of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Department of Justice, and the Central Intelligence Agency, Office of Security, regarding the activities of the Communist Party, United States of America, and its affiliates, in the United States and abroad, during the period from 1945 to 1950.

The first of these is the fact that the government has been unable to raise the
 necessary funds to meet its obligations.
 This is due to a combination of factors,
 including a decline in tax revenue and
 an increase in government spending.
 The second factor is the high level of
 inflation, which has eroded the value of
 the government's assets and liabilities.
 This has led to a loss of confidence in the government's financial management.
 The third factor is the lack of transparency in the government's financial operations.
 This has made it difficult for the public to understand the government's financial position and to hold it accountable.
 The fourth factor is the corruption within the government, which has led to the mismanagement of public funds.
 This has further weakened the government's financial position and has led to a loss of trust in the government.
 The fifth factor is the external debt which the government has accumulated.
 This debt has increased significantly in recent years, and it is now a major burden on the government's budget.
 The sixth factor is the political instability in the country, which has led to a lack of continuity in government policy.
 This has made it difficult for the government to implement long-term financial reforms.
 The seventh factor is the economic crisis, which has led to a sharp decline in the country's GDP and a high level of unemployment.
 This has further reduced the government's revenue and has increased its expenses.
 The eighth factor is the global financial crisis, which has led to a decline in international trade and investment.
 This has also had a negative impact on the government's financial position.
 The ninth factor is the natural disasters which have struck the country in recent years, leading to significant damage to infrastructure and a loss of life and property.
 The tenth factor is the aging population, which is increasing the government's social security and healthcare expenses.
 This is a long-term challenge that will continue to put pressure on the government's budget.
 In conclusion, the government's financial problems are the result of a combination of internal and external factors. To address these problems, the government needs to implement comprehensive financial reforms, including increasing transparency, reducing corruption, and improving the efficiency of its operations.
 It also needs to seek external assistance to help it manage its debt and to implement these reforms.

Responsum Praepositi Gener. S. I. ad Braunium et Elvenichum.

Eruditissimi Viri,
Professores Clarissimi!

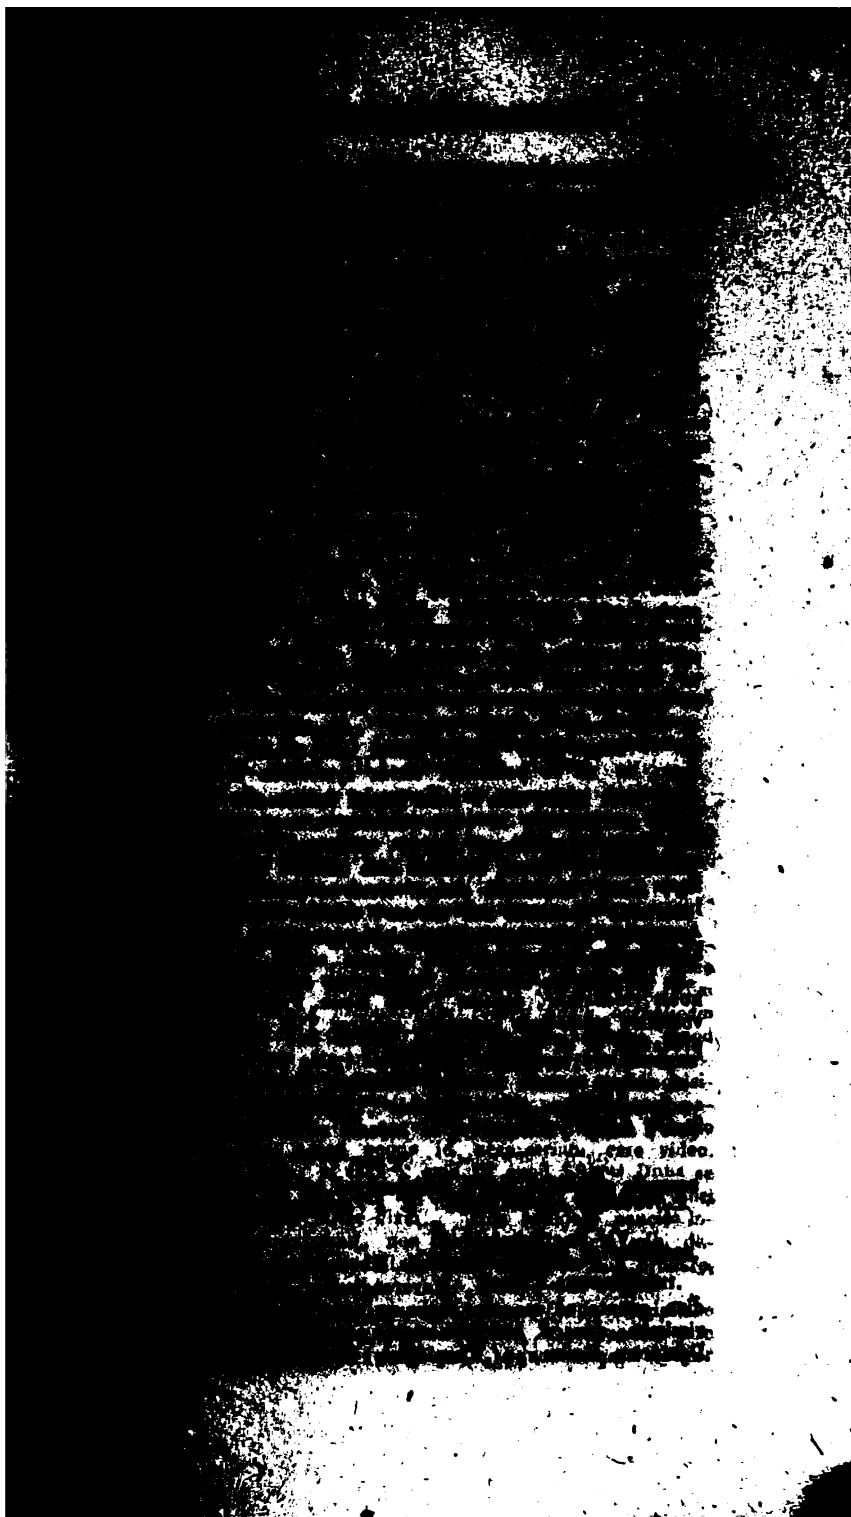

Responsum ad humanissimas Vestras d. 5. huius datas tantisper differre mihi necesse fuit, dum Sanctissimi Domini mentem circa ea, quae a Vobis proponebantur, intelligerem; quo certius Sanctitatis Suae sensa Vobiscum, Viri Eruditissimi, communicarem. Id quod iam, qua par est, fidelitate praestare aggredior. Inprimis novum plane accidit, nec parum displicet Sanctitati Suae, quod, cum versionem operum Hermesii, a Vobis Vestrisque adornatam, Vos ipsos Romam allaturos existimaret (sic enim proposita res fuit, cum de Vestro ad Urbem adventu ageretur) nunc demum intelligat, versionem illam, pro maiori atque praecipua parte, necdum confectam esse, et in plures menses istud quaecunque negotium Vestrum protractum iri. Enimvero Vestras tam diuturnus in Urbe moras illud habere incommodi gravissimi, quod in Vobis ceterisque Hermesii sectatoribus inde spes ali videntur, fore ut iudicium, quod de Hermesii doctrina Sancta Sedes iam protulit, aliquatenus immutetur. Quam quidem spem inanem omnino esse Sanctitas Sua diserte Vobis denuntiari iubet. Quod enim versionem a Vobis ipsis conficiendam accipere non recusavit, eo unice id factum est, ut Vobis, qui bonae voluntatis Vos esse profitebamini, gratificaretur; minime vero, quod inde ipsam Hermesii doctrinam melius cognitum iri existimavit. Etenim in huiusmodi negotiis tractandis ea ratio tenetur a Sede Apostolica, tam lente, tam caute, tam mature proceditur, ut praeter divinam assistantiam, quae Petro eiusque successoribus a Christo Domino promissa est, quamque nemo Catholicus in dubium vocare potest, humana etiam media omnia adhibeantur, quibus omne periculum immaturae decisionis evitetur. Et vero in iudicio de Hermesii doctrina, quod statutum fuit, iure meritoque statutum fuisse, vel ex ipsis Hermesianorum apologiis, (quas inter Acta Hermesiana, latine edita et a S. Patre lecta et perpensa), novis rationibus Sanctitati Suae persuasum est.

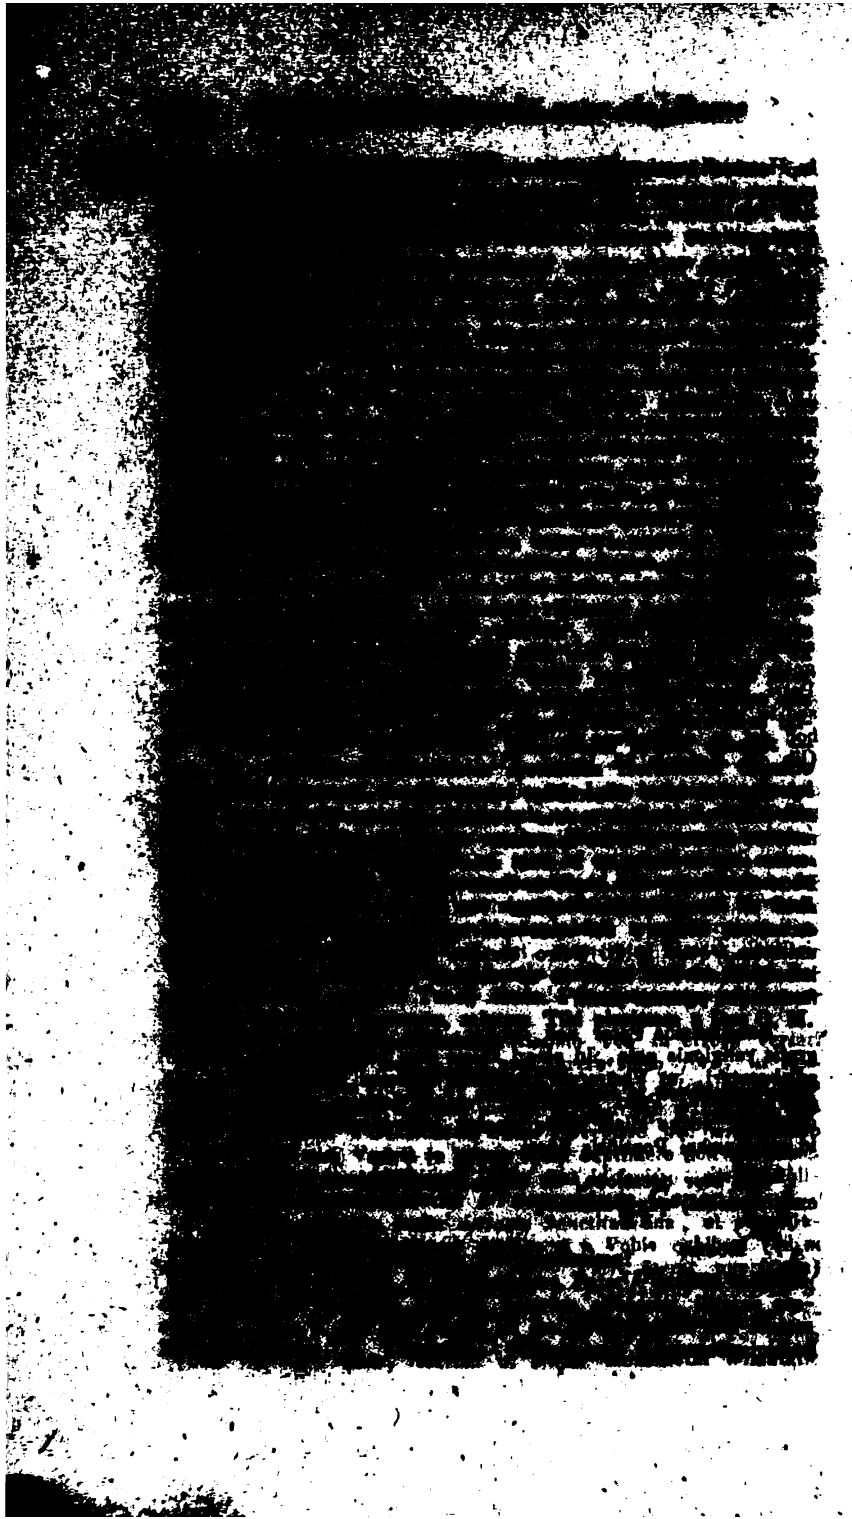

Quod autem notas a Vobis parari, Viri Eruditissimi, atque illustrationes ad obscuros vel ambiguos Hermesii locos dicatis, — Sanctitas Sua. qua est sapientia, observat, notis quibuscunque vel illustrationibus Hermesii doctrinam, quam eius ipsius verba prae se ferunt, neque immutatum iri, neque emendatum. Ac ne illud quidem Hermesii doctrinae profuturum, si forte, quae in eius systemate male, minus orthodoxe, ab eo dicta sunt, ea alibi rectius ab eodem dicta esse ostenderetur. Nam vel inter eos, qui plane incredulitatem professi sunt, non deesse, quorum errores ex

The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that every entry must be supported by proper documentation and that the records should be kept up-to-date at all times. The second part of the document outlines the procedures for conducting regular audits to ensure the integrity of the financial data. It states that audits should be performed by independent parties and that any discrepancies should be investigated immediately. The third part of the document provides a detailed description of the accounting system used by the organization, including the types of accounts and the methods of recording transactions. It also includes a list of the personnel responsible for maintaining the records and a schedule for the audits. The fourth part of the document contains a summary of the findings of the most recent audit and a list of recommendations for improving the accounting system. It concludes by stating that the organization is committed to maintaining the highest standards of financial integrity and that it will continue to work to improve its accounting practices.

2. Il est convenu, en ce qui concerne l'article 5 des instructions annexées à la convention supplémentaire du 22 mars 1833, que tous les navires portant le pavillon de Lubeck, et paraissant par leurs papiers appartenir à Lubeck, qui pourront être arrêtés, en exé-cution des conventions ci-dessus transcrites, par les croiseurs de Sa Majesté le Roi des Français ou de Sa Majesté le Roi du royaume uni de la Grande-Bretagne et d'Irlande, employés dans les stations d'Amérique, d'Afrique ou de Madagascar, seront conduits ou envoyés dans le port de Travemünde; que tous les navires portant le pavillon de Brême, et paraissant par leurs papiers, appartenir à Brême, qui pourront être arrêtés de même, seront conduits ou envoyés dans le port de Bremerhaven; et que tous les navires portant le pavillon de Hambourg, et paraissant, par leurs papiers, appartenir à Hambourg, qui pourront être arrêtés de même, seront conduits ou envoyés dans le port de Cuxthe 1990s, the number of people with a mental health problem has increased by 50% (Mental Health Foundation, 2000).

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the needs of people with mental health problems. The Department of Health (2000) has set out a vision for the future of mental health services, which is based on the principles of recovery, self-help, and community care. The vision is to provide a range of services that meet the needs of people with mental health problems, and to ensure that they are able to live full and active lives in the community.

The vision is based on the principles of recovery, self-help, and community care. Recovery is the process of regaining a sense of purpose and meaning in life, and of being able to live a full and active life in the community. Self-help is the process of learning to manage one's own mental health problems, and of being able to take control of one's own life. Community care is the process of providing services that meet the needs of people with mental health problems, and of ensuring that they are able to live full and active lives in the community.

you in return are doing such things. If you say that 1837 your brothers at Candahar are taking this step without your advice, the world will never believe it, because it is well known to the Europeans that Shah Shooja had nearly taken the city of Candahar, when you, being of one blood, went with troops and drove Shah Shooja from Candahar. It is, however, possible, that these matters at Candahar are going on without your knowledge."

Mr. Burnes said many things in this style, and really I had no answer to give him. Oh, my brother, if you will do these things without my concurrence, what will the people of the world say to it. We have an enemy.

Lettre de l'Agent Britannique à Caboul (Alexandre Burnes) au Chef de Kandahar, Sirdar Kohen Dil Khan.

(A. C.)

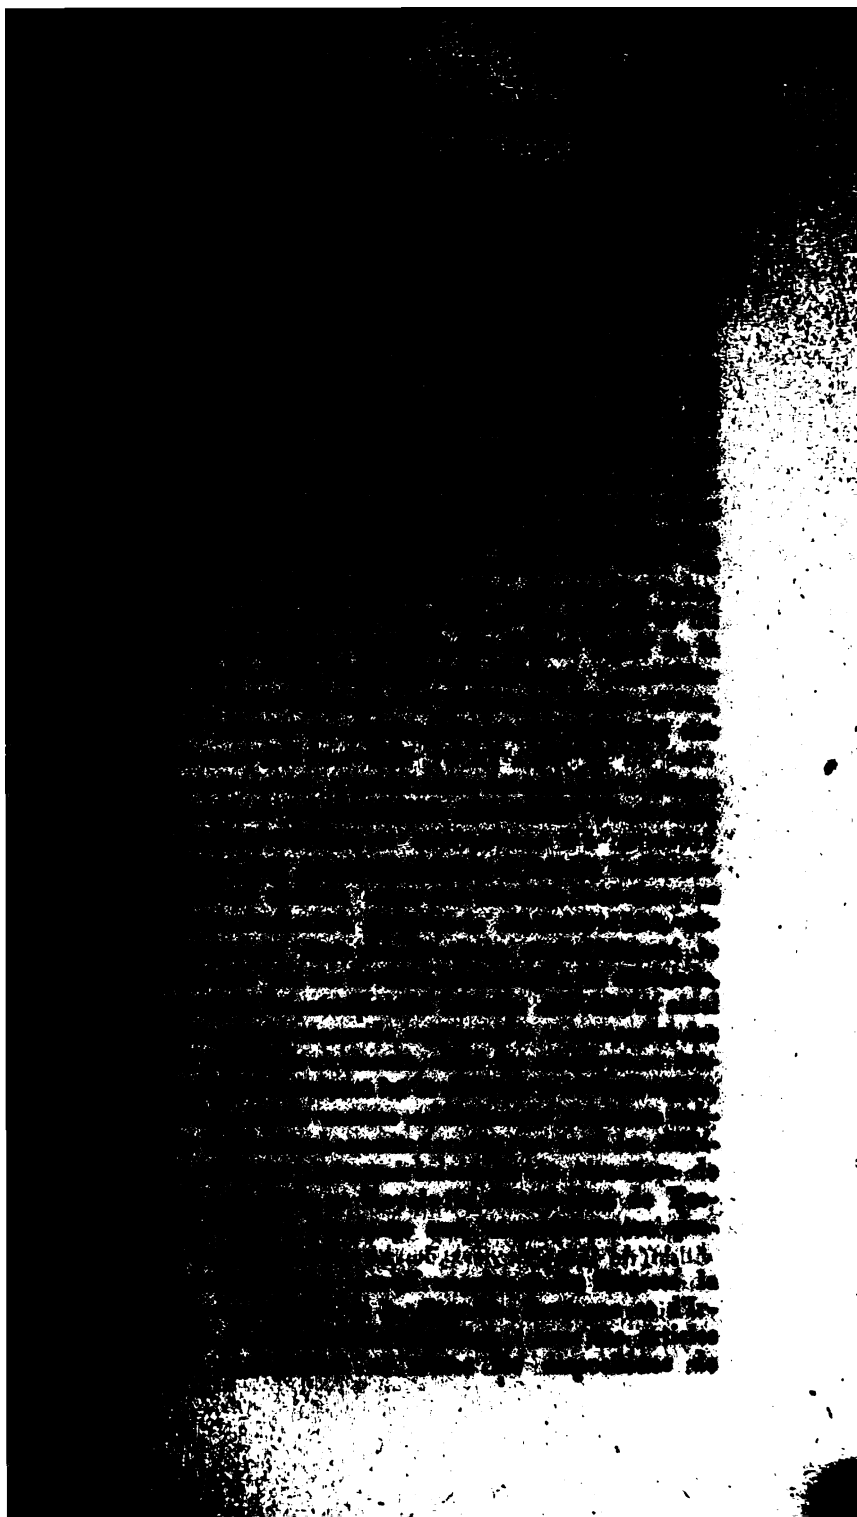

Cabool, 24 October 1837.

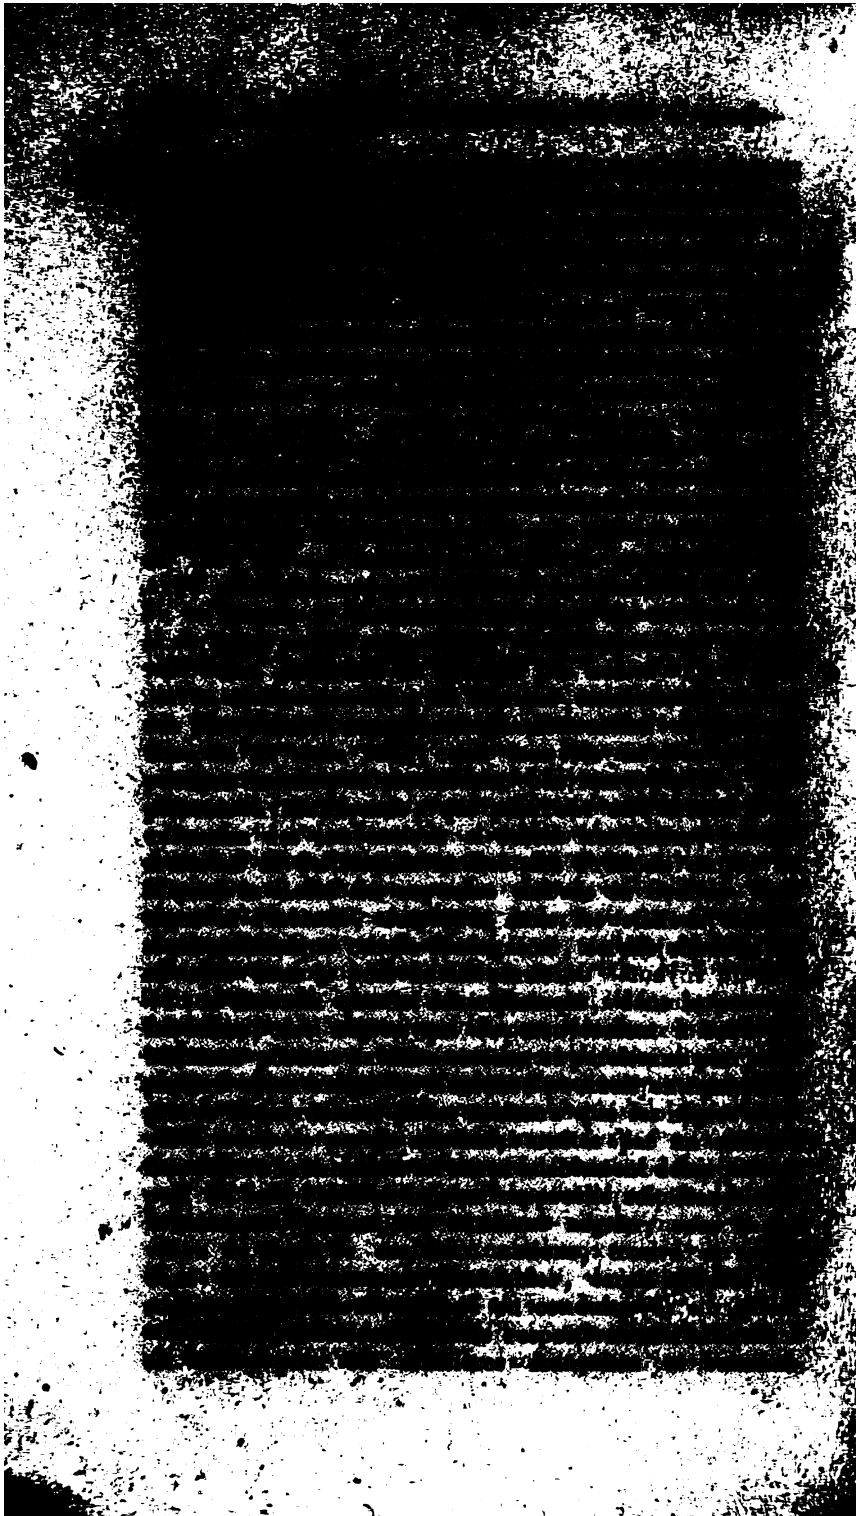

I had the great pleasure to receive your friendly letter, the arrival of which delighted me very much.
What you said, that „by God the feelings of friendship which I entertain must correspond with those in your breast, and will strengthen the bonds of amity;
do not think otherwise;" greatly pleased me; and I have been looking forward to the time when I should see and know you, and hear all about this good disposition from your own mouth.

It is known to you that I came to this quarter with good intentions towards all parties, and particularly to converse with all the members of your family;
and I have received a very friendly reception at Cabool.

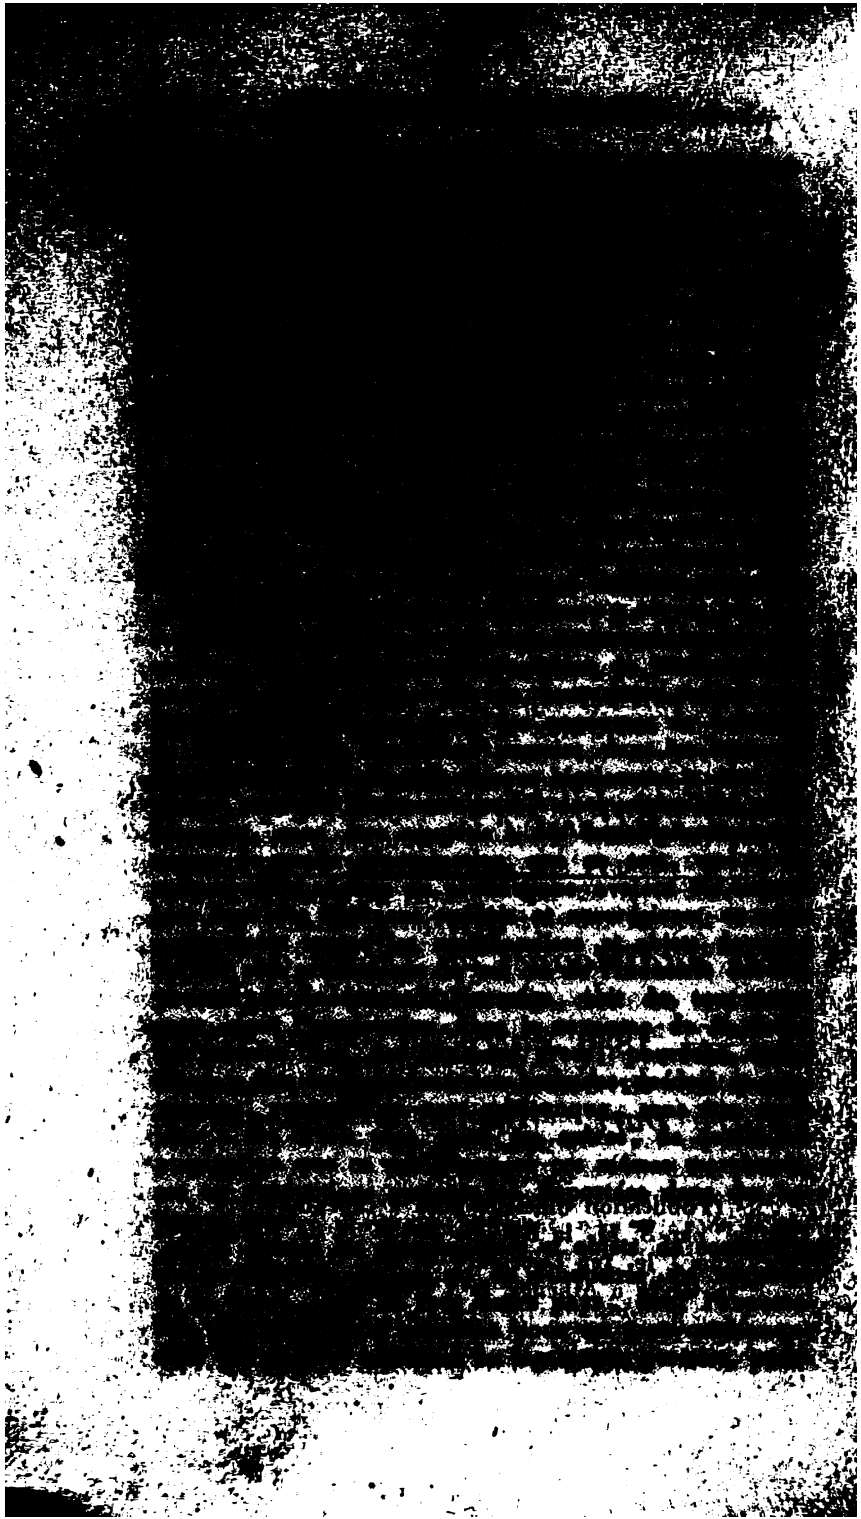

At this time I hear from various quarters that you are sending your son to Iran. When I look to the contents of your letter and to this step, I do not understand matters, and believe that some person has been deceiving me. It is not possible to hold two water melons in one hand; unanimity in families is a great source of power, family differences are the certain cause of evil; and foreseeing as much as the feeble intellect of man can do into futurity, I see no good in the step you now contemplate; even I see ded its contents. It has been a source of much regret 1838 to me to find that your views of what is most for your advantage, have led you to decline the good offices which I have tendered for the purpose of effecting a reconciliation between you and Maharajah Runjeet Sing, on the only terms on which I could, consistently with what has appeared to me just, engage to exercise my mediation for the settlement of the unhappy differences existing between you. With the explanation however of your sentiments which you have now afforded to me, my further interposition in this affair could not lead to beneficial results; and as, in so unsettled a condition of things, the continuance of Captain Burnes and of the officers under his orders, in Affghanistan would not be conducive to the good ends which I had hoped to accomplish by their deputation, I have now issued orders to them to return to India; and they will accordingly set out, on receiving from you their dismissal, for which their immediate application will be made to you. I have to express to you my acknowledgements for your attention and kindness to these officers while residing in your dominions.

Ameer Dost Mahomed Khan to Lord Auckland, received at Jugduluck, 28 April 1838, by Captain Burnes.

After compliments.

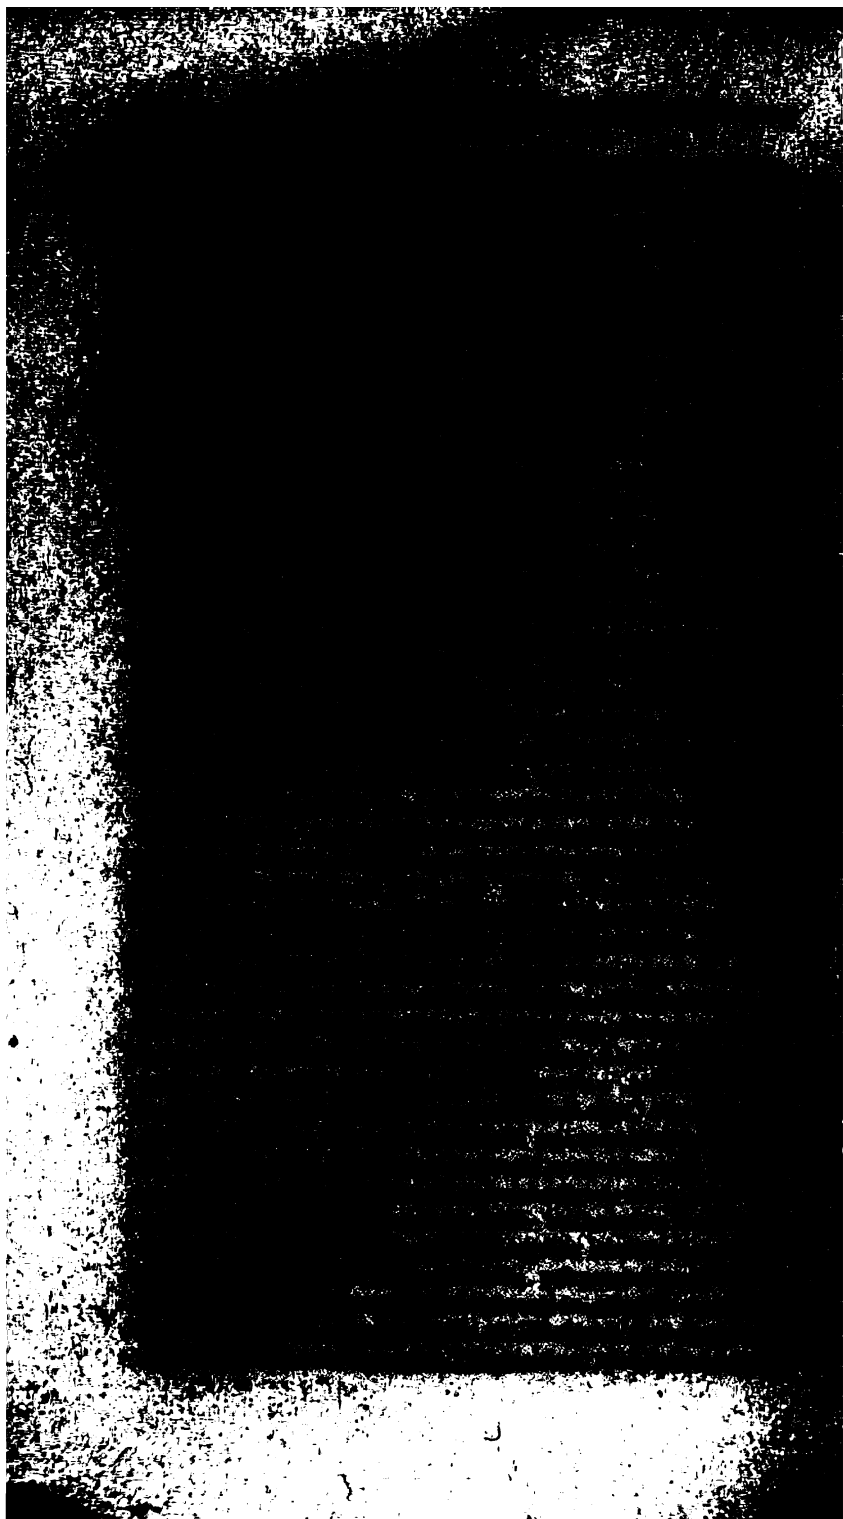

All the conversation which has passed between Captain Burnes and myself from the day of his arrival, is well known to your Lordship, and consequently it is needless to repeat it.

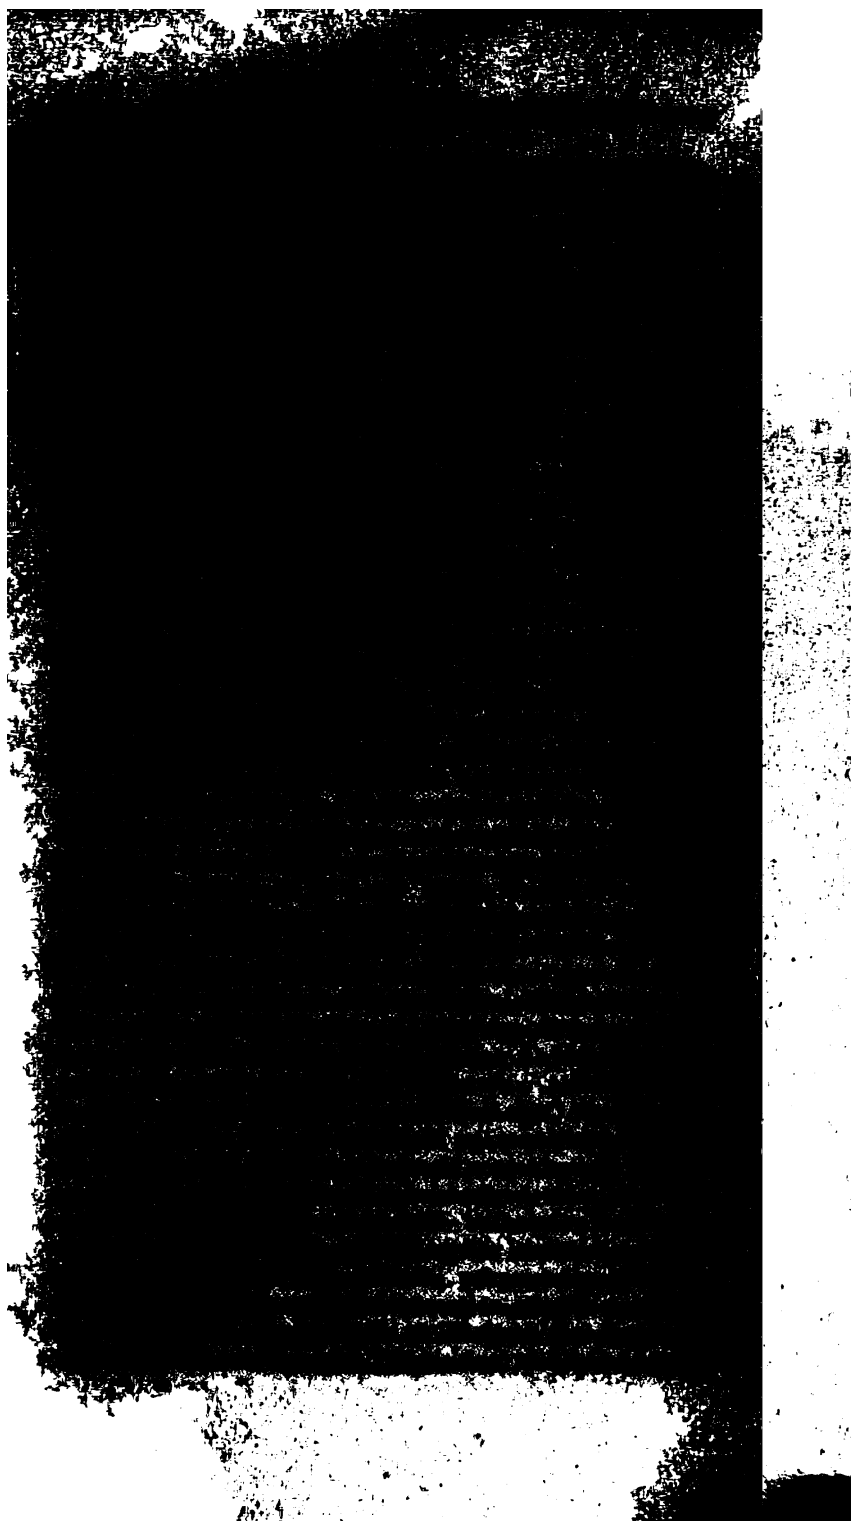

In the month of Zeekaud I sent to your Lordship a letter on the affairs of this place: it is now the month of Safar, or nearly three months that your Lordship has not favoured me with its answer. I also wrote a second time respecting the determination of the King of Persia, and the expectations of this friendly nation (Affghans) for the protection, and enlargement, of their possessions, which it had hoped from the British Government for a long time.

the 1990s, the number of people in the world who are undernourished has increased from 250 million to 800 million (FAO 1996).

There is a growing awareness of the need to improve the nutritional status of the world's population, and the World Health Organization (WHO) has set a target of halving the number of undernourished people by the year 2015 (WHO 1996).

One of the main reasons for the increase in undernourishment is the rapid population growth in developing countries, which has led to a corresponding increase in the demand for food.

Another major factor is the decline in agricultural production in many developing countries, which has been caused by a variety of factors, including drought, soil erosion, and lack of access to modern agricultural technologies.

In addition, the increasing urbanization of the world's population has led to a growing reliance on food imports, which has increased the vulnerability of many developing countries to fluctuations in international food prices.

Finally, the increasing incidence of chronic diseases, such as obesity and diabetes, in many developing countries has also contributed to the rise in undernourishment, as these diseases often lead to a loss of appetite and a decline in food intake.

Despite these challenges, there are a number of ways in which the nutritional status of the world's population can be improved. These include increasing agricultural production, improving access to modern agricultural technologies, and promoting a diet that is rich in fruits, vegetables, and whole grains.

One of the most effective ways to improve nutritional status is through the use of fortified foods, which are foods that have been enriched with essential vitamins and minerals. This can be done in a number of ways, including the fortification of staple crops, such as rice and wheat, and the fortification of processed foods, such as flour and oil.

Another important way to improve nutritional status is through the use of micronutrient supplements, which are small tablets or capsules that contain essential vitamins and minerals. These supplements can be taken by individuals or added to community water supplies.

Finally, it is important to promote a diet that is rich in fruits, vegetables, and whole grains. This can be done through a variety of means, including education, counseling, and the development of policies that encourage the production and consumption of healthy foods.

By taking these steps, we can improve the nutritional status of the world's population and reduce the number of people who are undernourished. This is a goal that should be a top priority for all governments and organizations that are concerned with the health and well-being of the world's people.

The World Health Organization (WHO) has set a target of halving the number of undernourished people by the year 2015. This is a challenging goal, but it is one that is within our reach if we take the necessary steps to improve the nutritional status of the world's population.

One of the most important steps is to increase agricultural production in developing countries. This can be done by providing farmers with access to modern agricultural technologies, such as improved seeds and fertilizers, and by providing them with the training and resources they need to use these technologies effectively.

Another important step is to improve access to modern agricultural technologies. This can be done by providing farmers with access to credit and other financial services, and by providing them with the infrastructure they need to transport their products to market.

Finally, it is important to promote a diet that is rich in fruits, vegetables, and whole grains. This can be done through a variety of means, including education, counseling, and the development of policies that encourage the production and consumption of healthy foods.

By taking these steps, we can improve the nutritional status of the world's population and reduce the number of people who are undernourished. This is a goal that should be a top priority for all governments and organizations that are concerned with the health and well-being of the world's people.

and conquest of the Turks and Portuguese; long and frequent struggles with great slaughter took place in consequence, and the town, on the decline of power between these two rival and ambitious nations, naturally again fell into the hands of its original masters; the Arabs, A.D. 1730, by whose bad system of government (that is of sole monopoly, united with tyranny and oppression both to the resident merchant and visitor), the place has lost its reputation; its merchants have been driven from it, and it is now a mere miserable village, without trade, and but seldom visited but by passing vessels, who anchor for protection in its splendid harbour; in fact, Aden has relapsed from her former eminence to poverty and misery.

Its scenery has been compared to Cintra by an eminent traveller, but in my opinion, to create such an idea, associations must be very vivid, and must be combined with other causes than the view before them; for in the dreary, dark and barren view of Shumsan there can be little to create a contrast, or recollection of that renowned and immortal hill.

That it was once a flourishing city, there can be no doubt, for the remains of its walls, tanks, baths, fortifications, etc. are still visible, also an aqueduct, which must have been built at great expense and labour; it is 16,320 yards long, the depth of the water-course 19 inches, and breadth 16 inches; its whole breadth 4 feet 6 inches; its composition red brick and stone; it was generally considered a Roman road until the place was surveyed, when through the persevering exertion of the late Dr. Halton, the truth was ascertained.

This great undertaking was, I think, performed by the Turks to ensure a sufficient supply of good water to the increasing population of Aden, and also for the convenience of watering their galleys and shipping in Aden harbour; besides, what confirms me in the idea, that, for the large population at that period residing there, they were cautious of not trusting too implicitly to the doubtful seasons for rain, is the immense labour they took in cutting wells through the rock to the depth of from 50 or 60 feet, and even to 120 feet; and still further to ensure a large supply for their natural and luxurious demands, they built tanks

seyn und freiem Willen, geschahene Widerruf, indem 1833
er erkannte, dass der von ihm nach dem Beispiele seiner Collegen und in Folge der ihm von dem Erzbischofe gemachten Mittheilungen, erlassene Act, der katholischen Kirche durchaus verderblich, ihren Satzungen widersprechend, und die Grundsätze derselben verletzend
sey. Das diesem Schreiben beigefügte Blatt, dagege-ntheilt eine Uebersetzung der Instruction, die der Bischof selbst an sein Vicariat erlassen hatte, und auf welche sein Widerruf sich eigentlich bezog.

Aus diesen beiden Documenten war ersichtlich, dass jenes Actenstück, von welchem in der Note des Cardinal-Staatssecrétaires vom 15. März 1836 als von einem dem Grafen von Spiegel zugeschriebenen Mitthei-lung oder Instruction die Rede gewesen war, in sol-cher Form und unter diesem Titel, auch in dem materiellen Ausdrucke und in der Zahl der Artikel, wie es durch Privat-Nachrichten angegeben worden waren, in der That nicht existirte. Wenn man jedoch den Text der durch den Bischof von Trier erhaltenen wahren Instruction mit jenem der andern, auf welche in der vor-erwähnten Note des Staatssecretariats hingewiesen wurde, verglich; so ergab es sich, dass ausserdem die in den ersten fehlenden, auf die vom Cardinal Albani unterzeichnete Instruction bezüglichen Artikel, im Uebri-gen, in Betreff des Wesens und Geistes ihres ganzen Inhalts, beide übereinstimmend waren, und in letzter Instanz auf den Entwurf der im Jahre 1831. Seitens des Preussischen Hofes von dem heiligen Stuhle ver-langten, von diesem aber verweigerten Abänderungen, hinausliefen. Es war daher ausser Zweifel, dass ein Actenstück vorhanden war, welches den Zweck hatte, das Breve Pius VIII in einer Weise zu vollziehen, die dem Geiste, welcher die darin ausgesprochenen Verfü-gungen ordnete, zuwiderlief; dass es der Preussischen Regierung bekannt, und in Folge der mit derselben getroffenen Verabredungen in Wirksamkeit gesetzt, aber
weder von dem Minister-Residenten in Rom in seiner Note vom 15. April 1836 erwähnt worden war, noch billiger Weise geahnet werden konnte, wenn man die in dieser Note abgegebene unumschränkte Erklärung, und das Zusammengreifen der Umstände beachtete, wodurch sie hervorgerufen war.

Dies war der Stand der Dinge, als der Minister

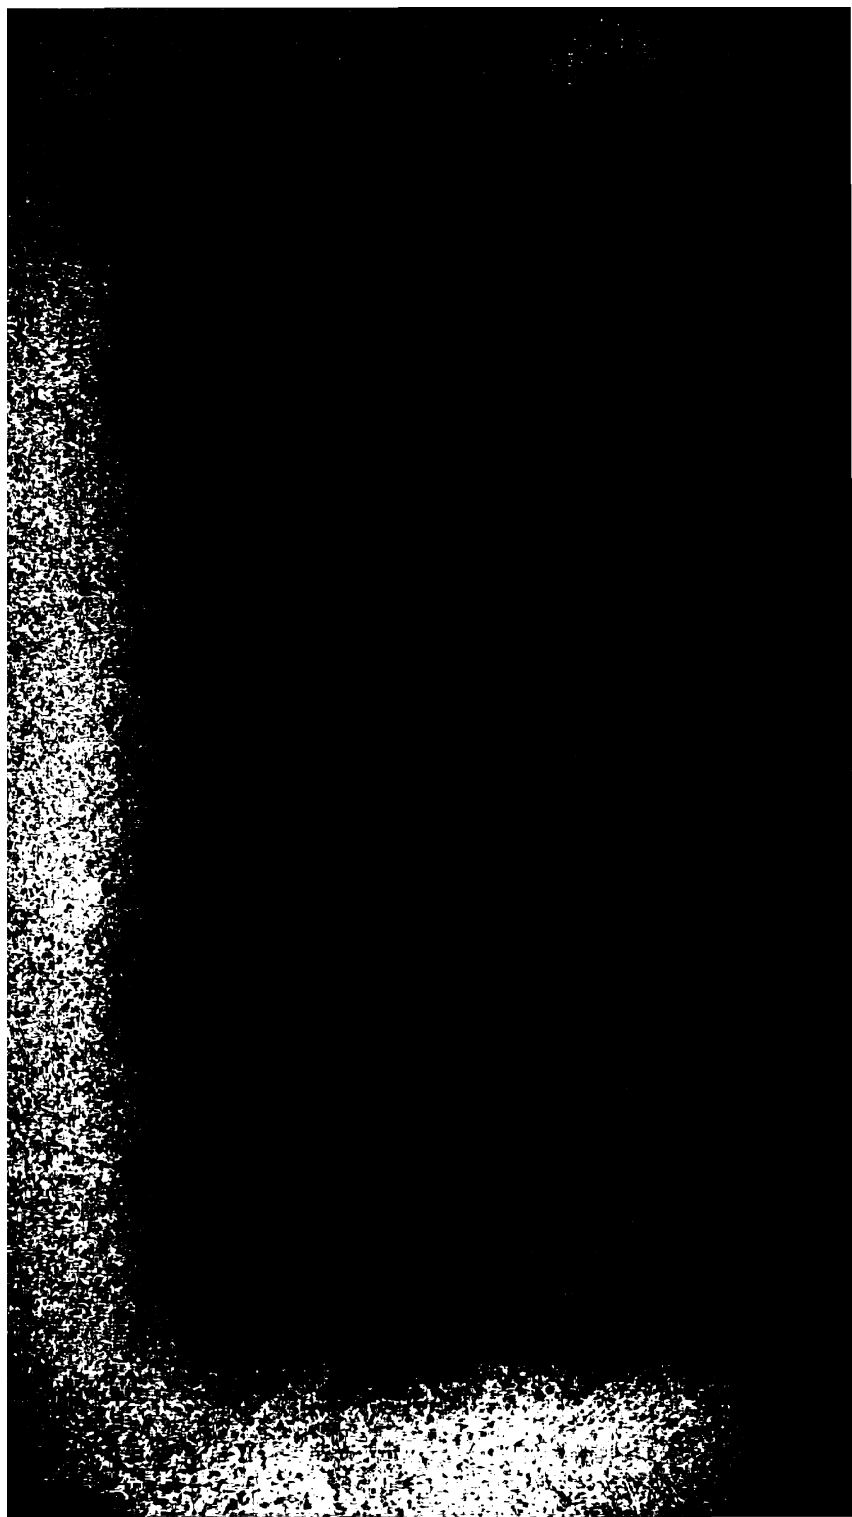

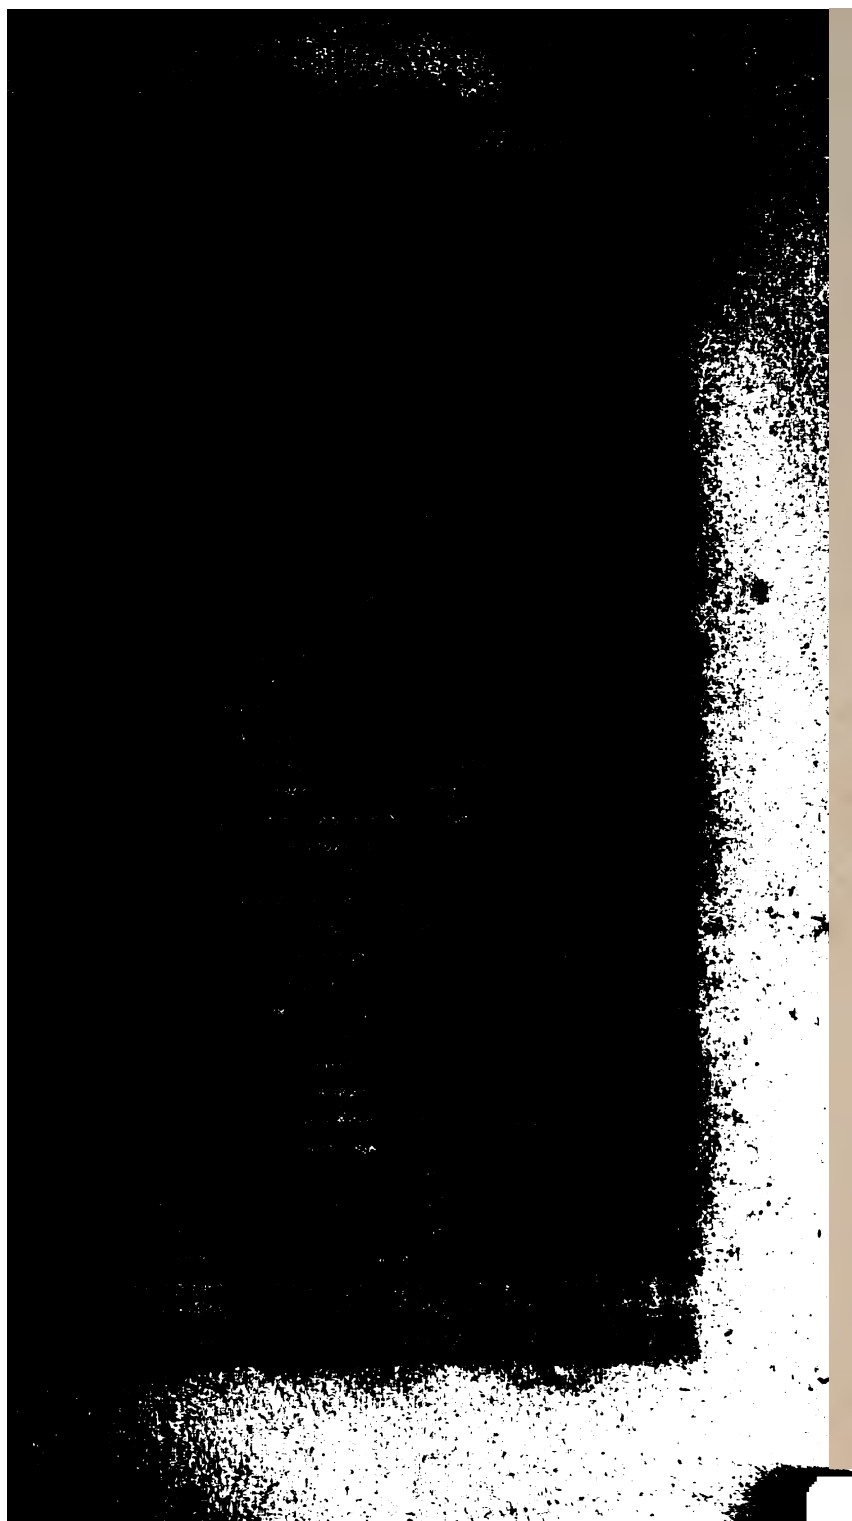

Indem der Minister die hier erwähnten Schreiben 1838 mit der bereits gedachten officiellen Note begleitete *), ermangelte er nicht, von den schätzbaren Vorzügen und der bewährten Tugend der Prälaten, die sie abgefasst hatten, die grössten Lobsprüche zu machen, und hob zugleich den Werth hervor, den man auf ihr Ansehen legen müsse. In ganz besonderer Weise lenkte er die Aufmerksamkeit auf die Person des neuen Erzbischofes von Cöln, „der, (wie er sagte) umgeben von der allgemeinen Achtung, zum Erzbischöflichen Stuhle gebracht worden, und dem der bestverdiente Ruf, zuvörderst wegen seiner Verwaltung der Diöcese Münster in den schwierigsten Zeiten, und später wegen des seinem Bruder als Suffragan geleisteten Beistandes, vorangegangen wäre.“ Und bei dieser Gelegenheit bemerkt er, welche Kraft die ehrwürdige Stimme desselben haben müsse, während er „die Vollziehung des Päpstlichen Breve's in seiner Diöcese schon festgestellt gefunden, dennoch aber dem Berichte seiner Amtsbrüder das Gewicht seines unverdächtigen Zeugnisses habe beifügen wollen, indem er dem heiligen Vater ausdrücke, dass er aus inniger Ueberzeugung des Gewissens geglaubt habe, die Bahn verfolgen zu müssen, die er vorgezeichnet gefunden hätte, und dass, weit entfernt, die Zucht und das Wohl der Kirche durch den aus jener Vollziehung hervorgegangenen Stand der Dinge bedroht zu wännen, er sie im Gegentheile durch jede andre Handlungsweise und durch jede andre Anordnung in Gefahr gesetzt sehen würde.“**) Hierauf benützte er die Schreiben der Bischöfe, um zu bekräftigen, was er bereits in seiner Note vom 15. April 1836 vorgestellt hatte, in der Meinung, die bekannte „nicht minder für den verstorbenen Prälaten von Cöln, als für diejenigen, welche seine Mitschuldigen gewesen seyn müssten, beleidigende Zumuthung“ Lügen zu strafen; im Namen seines Souveräns aber erklärte er Folgendes: „Se. Majestät, durch den Inhalt der Ihnen von den Bischöfen mitgetheilten Schreiben in Kenntniss gesetzt, dass diese, wie in ihren Erklärungen, so auch in ihrer Handlungsweise übereinin dem bestimmten Sinne der Willen Seitens der Bischöfe 1836 selbst gegebenen Ausführung, für entscheidend hielt, Seine Majestät sich bei der blossen Nachricht von den bei den oben erwähnten Urkunden unüberwindlich überzeugen müssten, dass Seine Heiligkeit aus ganz gleicher Ursache, und abgesehen von jeder andern Rücksicht, ausser Stande wären, dem Begehren einer ähnlichen Erklärung zu willfahren, und dass Sie in dem Falle, den Bischöfen der westlichen Provinzen der Preussischen Monarchie Ihre Gesinnungen zu eröffnen, nothwendig die Art und Weise missbilligen müssten, in welcher dieselben die Bestimmungen des gedachten Breve's auszuführen geglaubt hätten, indem Seine Heiligkeit sie für die Grundsätze, für die Zucht und für das Wohl der katholischen Kirche als verderblich betrachteten.

Der Minister nahm diese Mittheilung mit Zeichen besonderer Bereitwilligkeit auf, und meldete in der Note vom 14ten desselben Monats, indem er die Wichtigkeit der betreffenden beiden Actestücke anerkannte*), dass er sich bereit habe, die nöthigen Massregeln zu treffen, damit sie unmittelbar dem Könige eingehändigt würden; er sey auch überzeugt, dass Seine Majestät den Ausdruck der in dem Schreiben eines so achtungswerthen Bischofes enthaltenen Gesinnungen in ernsteste Erwägung gezogen haben, und die ganze Zartheit des vom heiligen Vater gegen seinen (des Ministers) Hof befolgten vertraulichen und vertrauenden Verfahrens „du procédé confidentiel et confiant“ in vollem Maasse schätzen würden. Nachdem er sich hierauf damit beschäftigt hatte, einen Unterschied in Form und Wesen zwischen der vom Bischofe von Trier überreichten und der in der Note des Staatssecretariates vom 15. März 1836 angeführten Instruction darzulegen, nahm er daraus Veranlassung, die Wahrheit der unumwundenen Erklärung zu bestätigen, mit der er, in seiner Erwiderung vom 15. April desselben Jahres, die Existenz jener ersten Instruction geküget hatte. Er fügte überdies hinzu: „wie gross auch die Wichtigkeit der, die Person des sterbenden Bischofs von Trier angehenden Thatsache seyn möge, so sollte sie in dem erhabenen und wohlwollenden Gemüthe Seiner Heiligkeit mit eifinir; mais son empressement n'est ni de la tiédeur, ni 1838 de l'hostilité envers la Belgique. Il prend vivement ses intérêts à coeur, et il voudrait qu'il lui fût permis de seconder ses vœux pour l'intégrité du territoire; mais il me reste peu ou point d'espoir à cet égard. Cependant j'ai prié S. S. de faire en sorte, après l'examen du travail sur la dette, que je fusse mis en rapport direct et personnel avec le plénipotentiaire hollandais. Nous pourrions alors, si le chiffre de la dette était rectifié en notre faveur, lui faire des propositions relatives au territoire. „Je doute, me répondit lord „Palmerston, que M. Dedel soit autorisé à s'entendre „directement avec vous, et je doute même que sa cour consente à vous suivre sur ce terrain.”

Je crois devoir ajouter que je me suis abstenu, depuis quinze jours, de voir aucun des plénipotentiaires du Nord. Je n'ai voulu leur montrer ni empressement, ni inquiétude, et j'ai mis autant de soin à me tenir à l'écart, que j'ai mis d'assiduité à voir les ministres de France et d'Angleterre.

Agréez, monsieur le Ministre, les assurances de la plus haute considération.

IV.

Propositions faites par les Plénipotentiaires d'Autriche et de Prusse (M. M. de Senfft-Pilsach et de Bulow) pour les questions financières. En date du . . . Août 1838.

Art. 2. Le payement des rentes annuelles, au montant de fl. 8,400,000, dont la Belgique est chargée, d'après l'art. 13, commencera à courir du jour de l'échange des ratifications du présent traité; le premier versement aura lieu conformément au § 3 du même article, le 30 juin 1839, au prorata de l'intervalle écoulé.

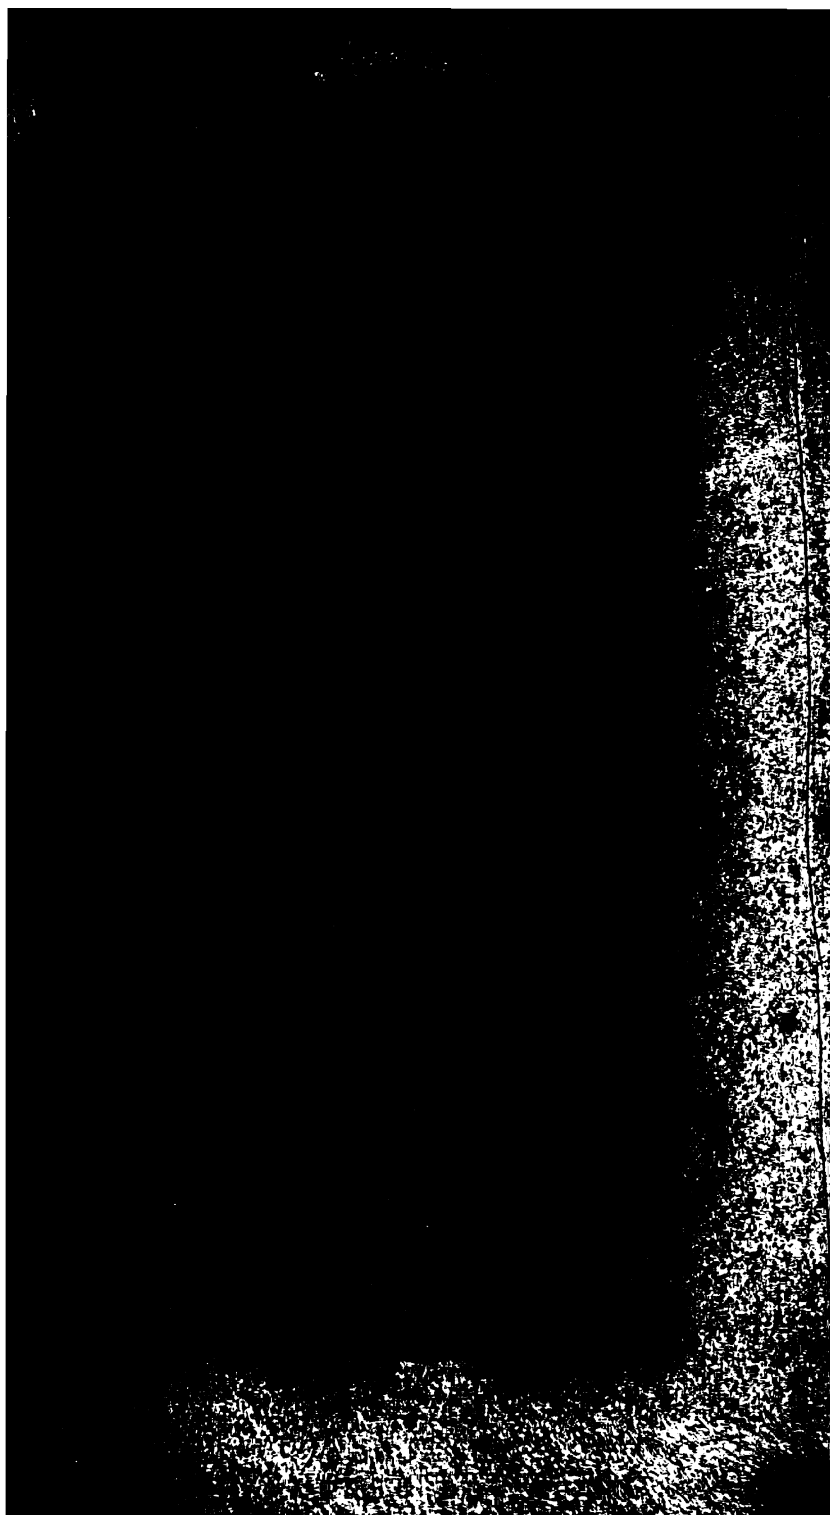

Art. 3. § 1er. La créance de la Hollande envers la Belgique, du chef des avances faites ou à faire par la première, pour le service de la totalité des dettes publiques du royaume uni des Pays-Bas, depuis le 1er novembre 1830, jusqu'au jour de l'échange des ratifications du présent traité, au prorata de la rente an-premier tableau qui est la cause de l'erreur d'application 1838 tion que la conférence a commise en ce point.

Quant à la dette française d'origine belge, ils n'en ont parlé, à la vérité, ni dans l'autre tableau; mais ce n'est pas moins encore l'inexactitude du second tableau qui a amené la conférence à ne pas s'arrêter à l'importance réelle du chiffre de cette dette; elle a dit, en effet, dans le protocole n<sup>o</sup> 48, que ce qui avait achevé de la déterminer à porter la portion de la dette belge à un taux aussi élevé, c'était la circonstance que le montant de la dette du royaume uni s'élevait à fl. 27,700,000, chiffre qui est bien celui que lui avait fourni le second tableau.

Or les plénipotentiaires avaient commis une erreur de plus d'un tiers dans la position de ce chiffre, ainsi qu'il est démontré dans le rapport de la commission des finances, et, par conséquent, c'est encore parce que ce second tableau avait donné ce chiffre comme récapitulation de la dette totale du royaume, sans aucune explication propre à faire ressortir les doubles emplois résultant des diverses sommes par eux indiquées, et dont l'addition amenait ce résultat, que la conférence n'a pas pris garde à l'erreur qu'elle a commise dans le chiffre de la dette d'origine française, son intention n'étant autre que de faire ressusciter cette dette.

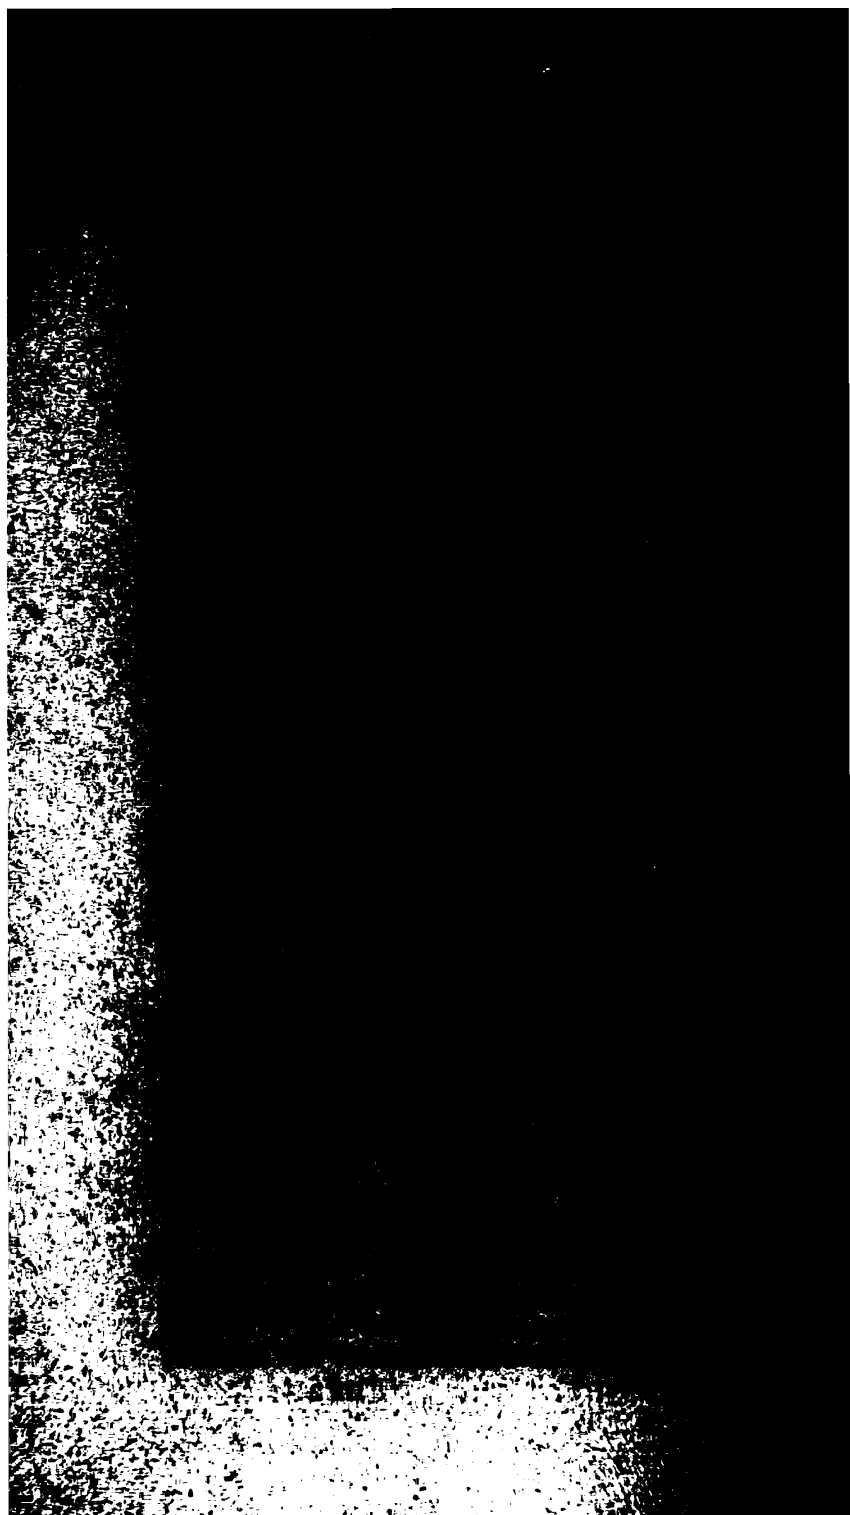

Il est donc démontré que les erreurs d'application commises par la conférence, à l'égard des dettes austro et franco-belges, ont eu pour cause première les inexactitudes des tableaux hollandais, comme il est démontré que ces erreurs sont essentielles, puisque le préjudice qui en résulterait pour la Belgique serait fort important, et, par conséquent, la Belgique est recevable, au même titre qu'en ce qui regarde les obligations du syndicat, d'invoquer l'engagement formel que la conférence a pris de réviser son travail dans le cas où les tableaux renfermeraient des inexactitudes essentielles, sans distinction si ces inexactitudes consisteraient en énonciations erronées, fausses indications, omissions ou réticences; distinction qui était, d'ailleurs, inutile dans le sens de cet engagement, puisque l'erreur n'aurait pas moins produit son effet, dans un cas comme dans l'autre.

Si maintenant, et malgré l'évidence des faits, on ne voulait pas admettre que les erreurs de chiffre et d'application commises par la conférence à l'égard des aussi étonnante, à une aussi étrange application des principes d'équité, qu'elle déclarait vouloir prendre exclusivement pour guide de ses pensées. Il faut nécessairement que ces considérations politiques, en dehors du protocole et du memorandum, soient connues, si elles existent, afin que l'on puisse les apprécier; sinon, il restera pour tout le monde, dans les documents qui rendent compte des motifs de son jugement, une iniquité d'application dont la Belgique ne pourra jamais volontairement rester frappée, outre le droit qu'elle a déjà de persister à protester contre l'exception faite à son préjudice, et à l'avantage exclusif de la Hollande, contrairement à la confusion des bénéfices recueillis de part et d'autre dans le partage de la communauté.

Enfin, il est encore un point sur lequel la proposition faite par MM. de Bulow et de Senfft garde le silence; c'est sur le moyen de donner à la Belgique une garantie formelle du concours, de la part de la Hollande, à la liquidation effective des anciennes créances belges de diverses origines, autres que françaises, et notamment des engagères, créances qui restent à liquider.

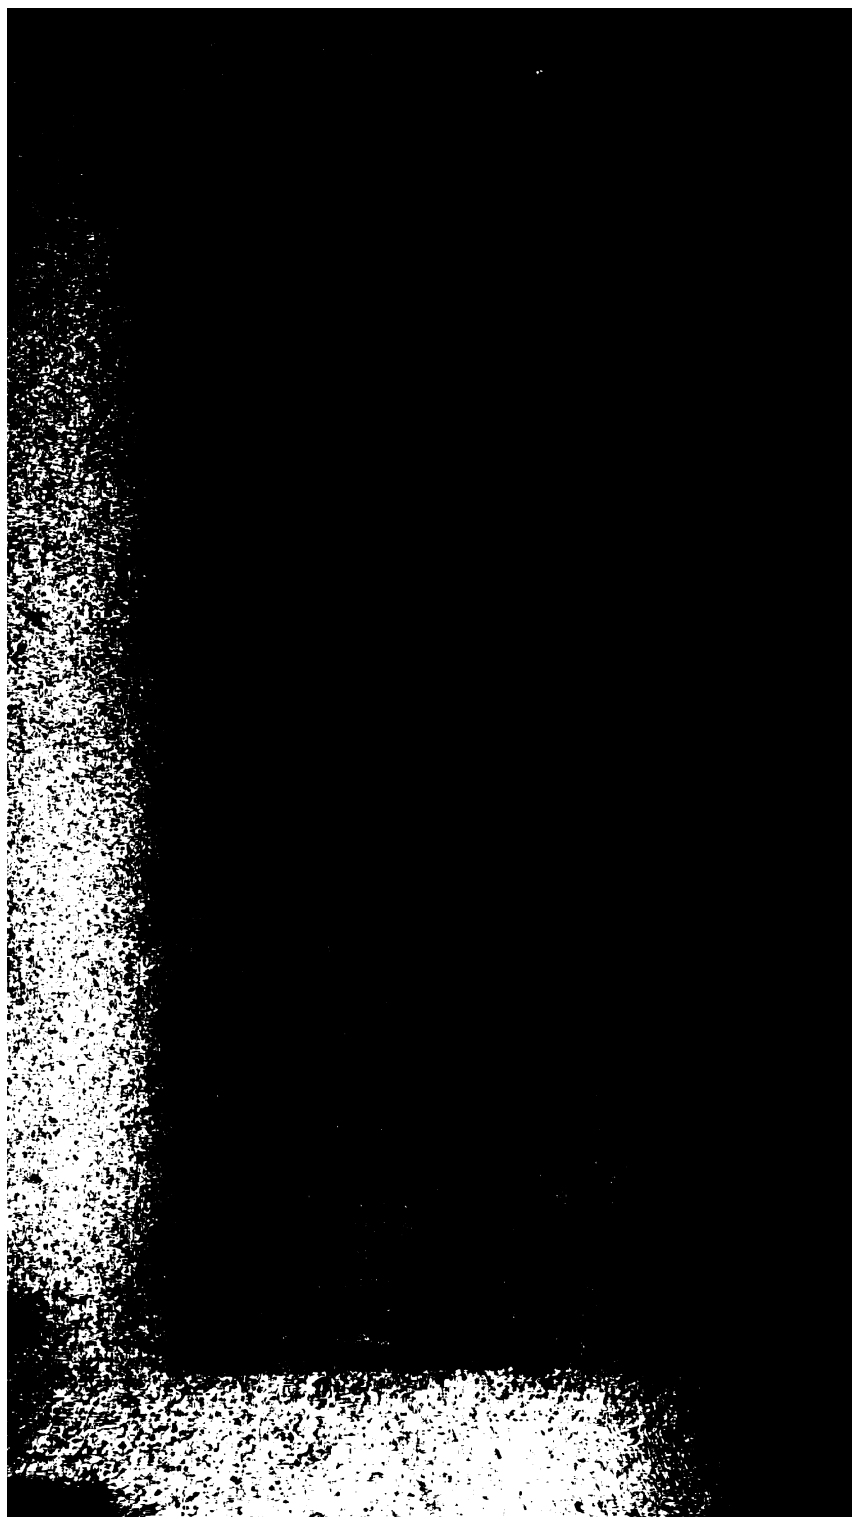

La demande de la Belgique de ce chef est trop évidemment fondée pour que la conférence puisse laisser sans solution ce germe de difficultés futures entre la Belgique et la Hollande.

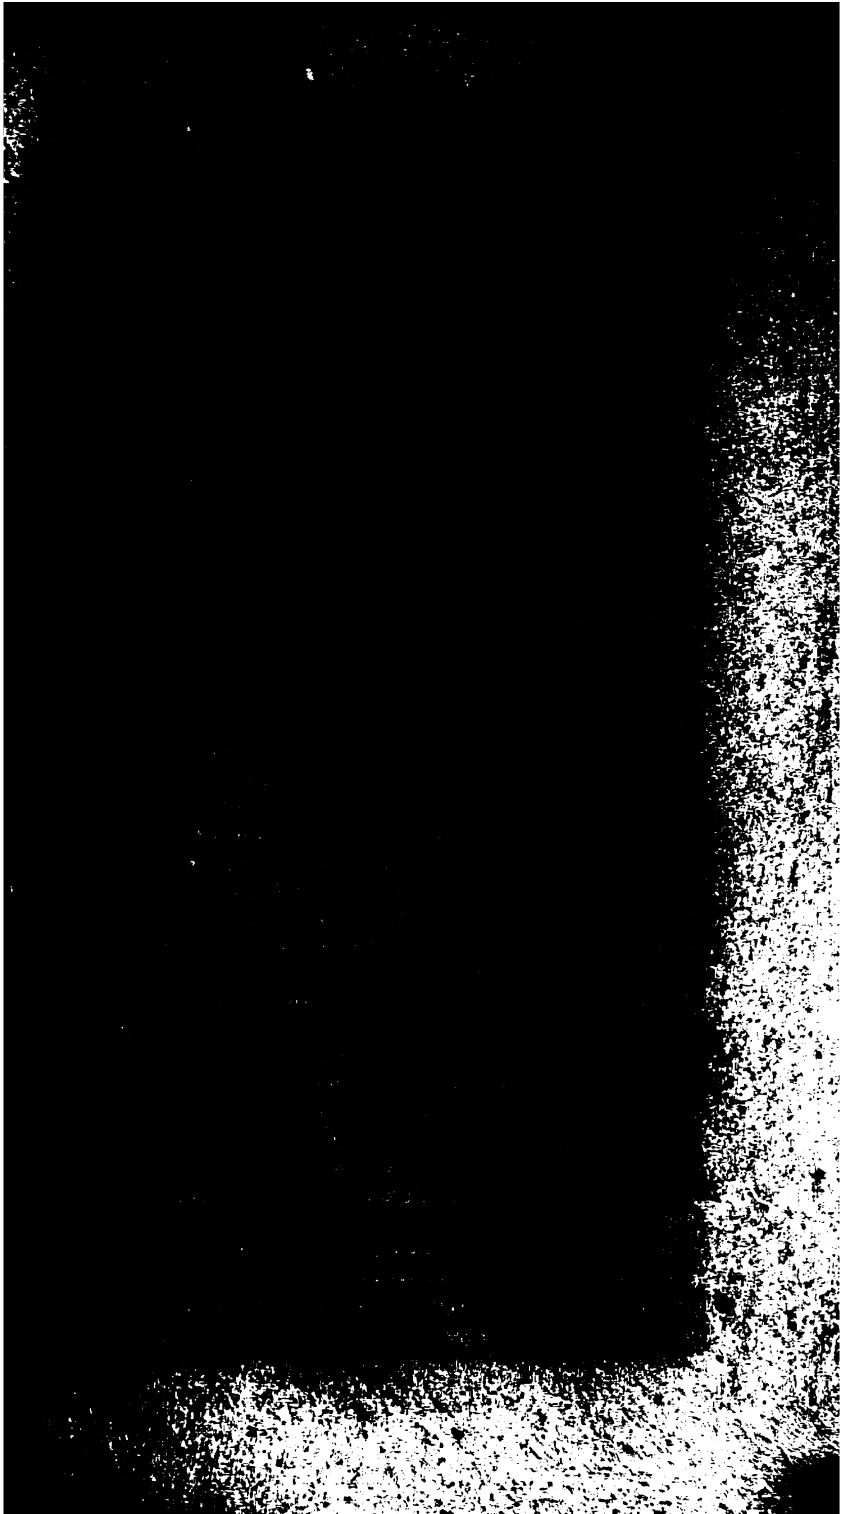

On persiste donc à réclamer de nouveau son attention sur ce point.

Memorandum confidentiel du Plénipotentiaire et des Commissaires de la Belgique, remis le 12 Octobre 1838 aux Plénipotentiaires d'Angleterre et de France (Lord Palmerston et général Sebastiani) sur leur proposition d'accepter un chiffre transactionnel.

La proposition officieuse d'un chiffre transactionnel global n'a pu être acceptée par le gouvernement belge. Il lui eût été impossible de fixer ce chiffre avec quelque certitude, attendu qu'il n'a point en sa possession tous les documents nécessaires pour établir le compte du syndicat. Dans ce système, la position des

Stipulations proposées pour un Traité de paix entre la Perse et Kamran Mirza, Prince de Hérât sous la garantie de la Grande-Bretagne, et acceptée par le dernier . . . Avril 1838.

(Papers relating to Persia and Afghanistan. Lond. 1839: p. 94 et 95).

I. Hostilities and plunder shall cease, and the capture and selling of slaves shall entirely be put a stop to

II. The subjects and dependents of the Shah-in-Shah of Irân, shall in no way be annoyed, and no attempt shall be made to injure them, and no disturbance shall be created on the frontier of Khorassan. 1638

III. Every possible endeavour shall be used to prevent the Turcomans or others from plundering in the territory of the Shah-in-Shah of Irân, and in the event of these tribes offending, should the Shah-in-Shah of Irân desire to chastise and punish them, this Government shall furnish troops to the extent of its ability to co-operate with the troops of the Shah-in-Shah of Persia, for the chastisement of the above-mentioned tribes.

IV. Whatever number of slaves may be in bondage with the Affghans of Herat and its dependencies; all that are within reach, or that they may be able to restore, shall be restored.

V. Whatever persons of the Affghans may have joined the Shah-in-Shah of Irân, shall not in any way be molested or injured.

VI. Hereafter Prince Kamran shall not give himself the title of Shah, but shall content himself with that of Shahzadeh.

VII. Merchants from all parts who shall enter the territory of Herat and its dependencies, shall be in every respect protected, and shall not be molested in life or property.

VIII. The tribe of Hazareh shall not be restored, but this Government shall do all in its power to remove them to their former abodes in the Persian territory.

Demandes du Prince Kamran.

I. His Majesty the Shah-in-Shah of Irân shall treat Prince Kamran as one of his own brothers.

II. The Ministers of the Persian Government shall in no possible way interfere in the internal affairs of the dominions in possession of Prince Kamran; but these affairs shall be left under the entire control of the Ministers of the Government of Herat, that they may be able to fulfil their engagement.

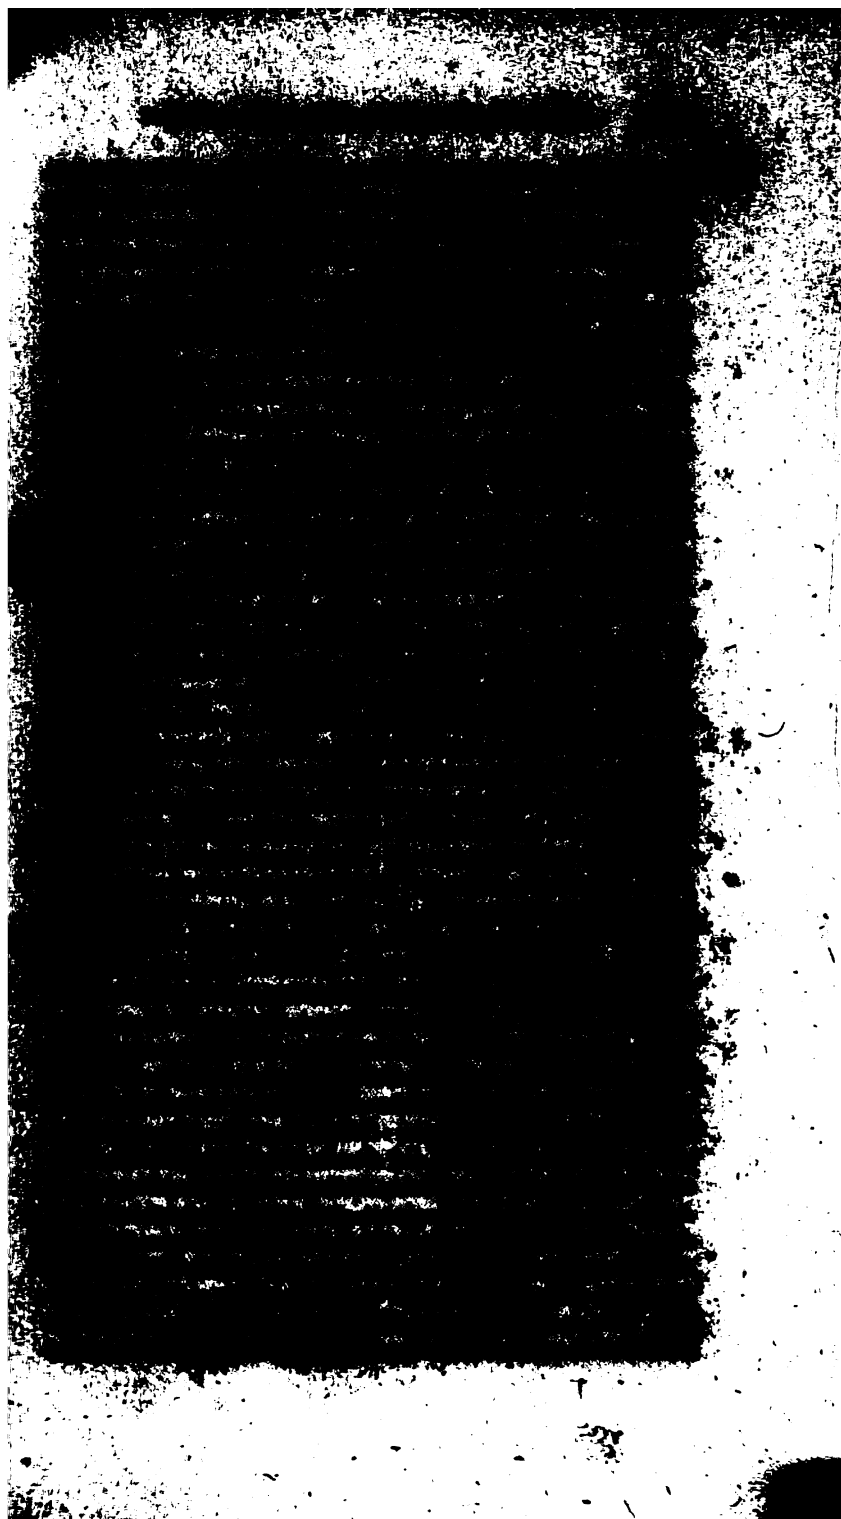

III. Ghorian shall be given over to Sheer Mahomed Khan, and Sheer Mahomed Khan himself shall at all times remain with the Shah-in-Shah of Irân.

IV. The Shah-in-Shah of Irân shall not send troops

The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that proper record-keeping is essential for the efficient management of the organization's finances. The text outlines the various methods used to collect and analyze data, ensuring that all information is up-to-date and reliable. It also mentions the role of different departments in this process, highlighting the need for close collaboration and communication.

The second part of the document focuses on the implementation of new financial policies. It describes the steps taken to ensure that these policies are understood and followed by all staff members. The text mentions the use of training sessions and the distribution of informational materials to facilitate this process. It also notes the importance of monitoring the effectiveness of these policies and making adjustments as needed.

The third part of the document discusses the results of the financial review. It provides a detailed analysis of the organization's performance over the past year, highlighting areas of strength and areas for improvement. The text mentions the use of various financial ratios and metrics to evaluate performance, and it provides a clear comparison of the organization's results against its targets and industry benchmarks.

The fourth part of the document outlines the recommendations for the future. It identifies key areas where the organization can improve its financial performance and provides specific suggestions for action. The text mentions the importance of continued investment in technology and staff training, as well as the need for ongoing communication and collaboration between all departments.

the 1990s, the number of people in the world who are obese has increased by 100% (World Health Organization 1997).

Obesity is a complex condition, with many causes and consequences. It is a condition that is associated with a number of health problems, including heart disease, diabetes, and certain types of cancer.

THE HISTORY OF THE CITY OF BOSTON

The history of the city of Boston is a story of growth and change. From its founding as a small fishing village, it has become one of the most important cities in the United States. The city's location on a natural harbor made it a center of trade and commerce. Over the years, it has been a site of many significant events, including the American Revolution. The city's architecture and culture have also evolved over time, reflecting its status as a major urban center. The history of Boston is a testament to the resilience and adaptability of its people.

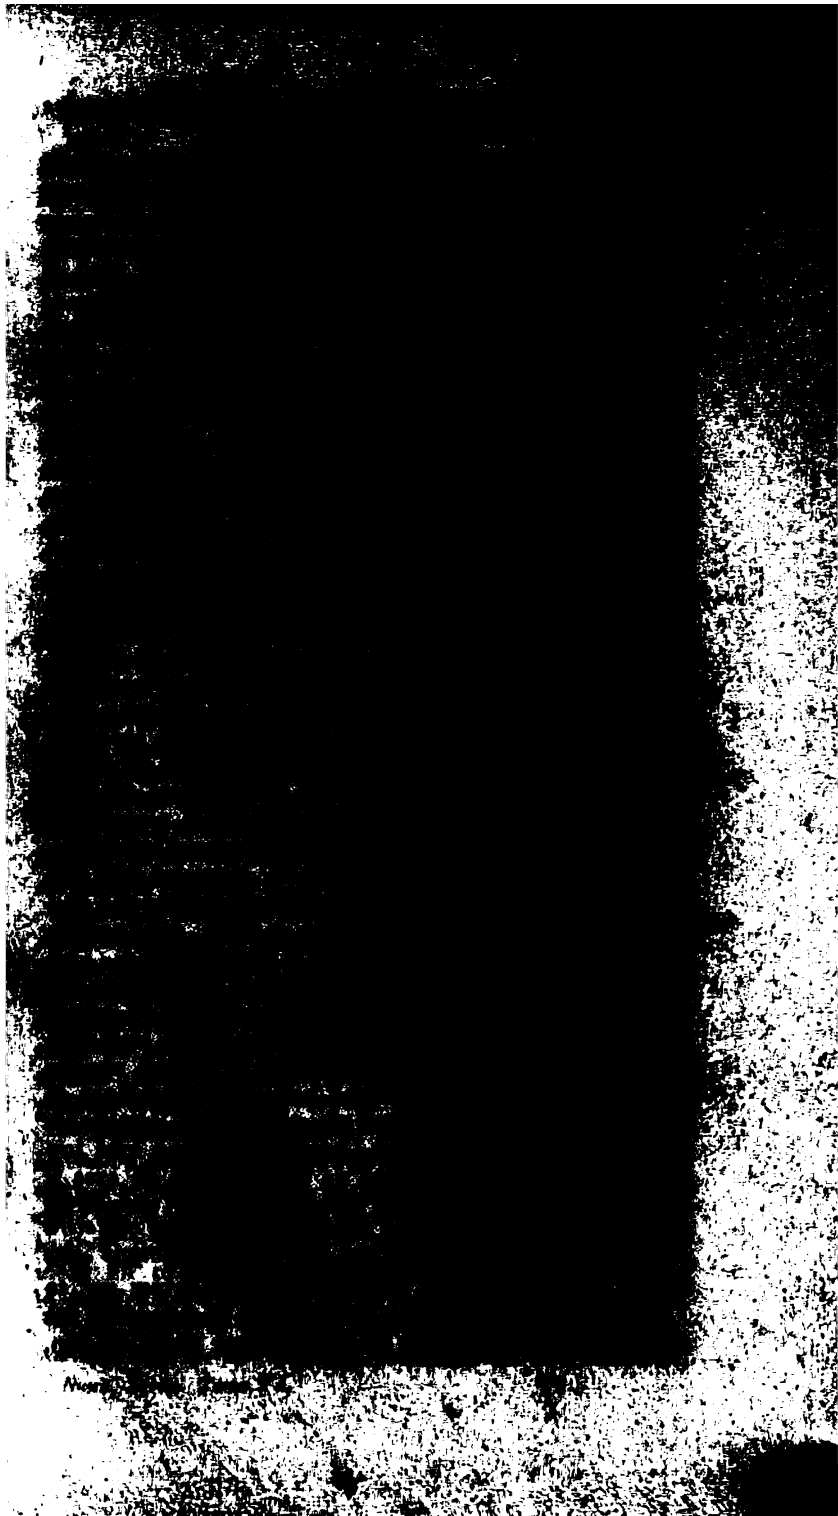

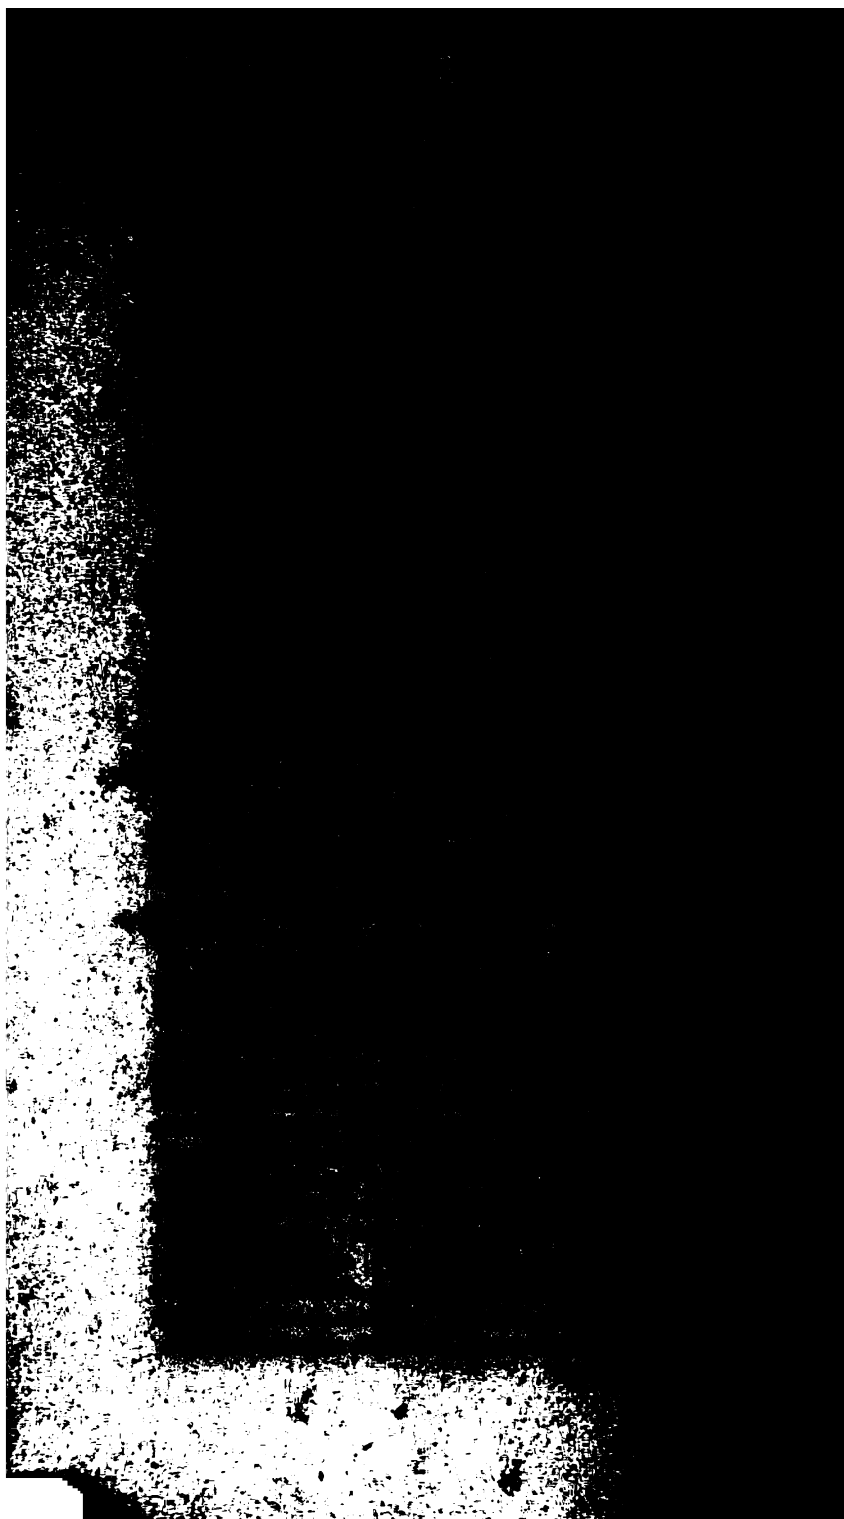

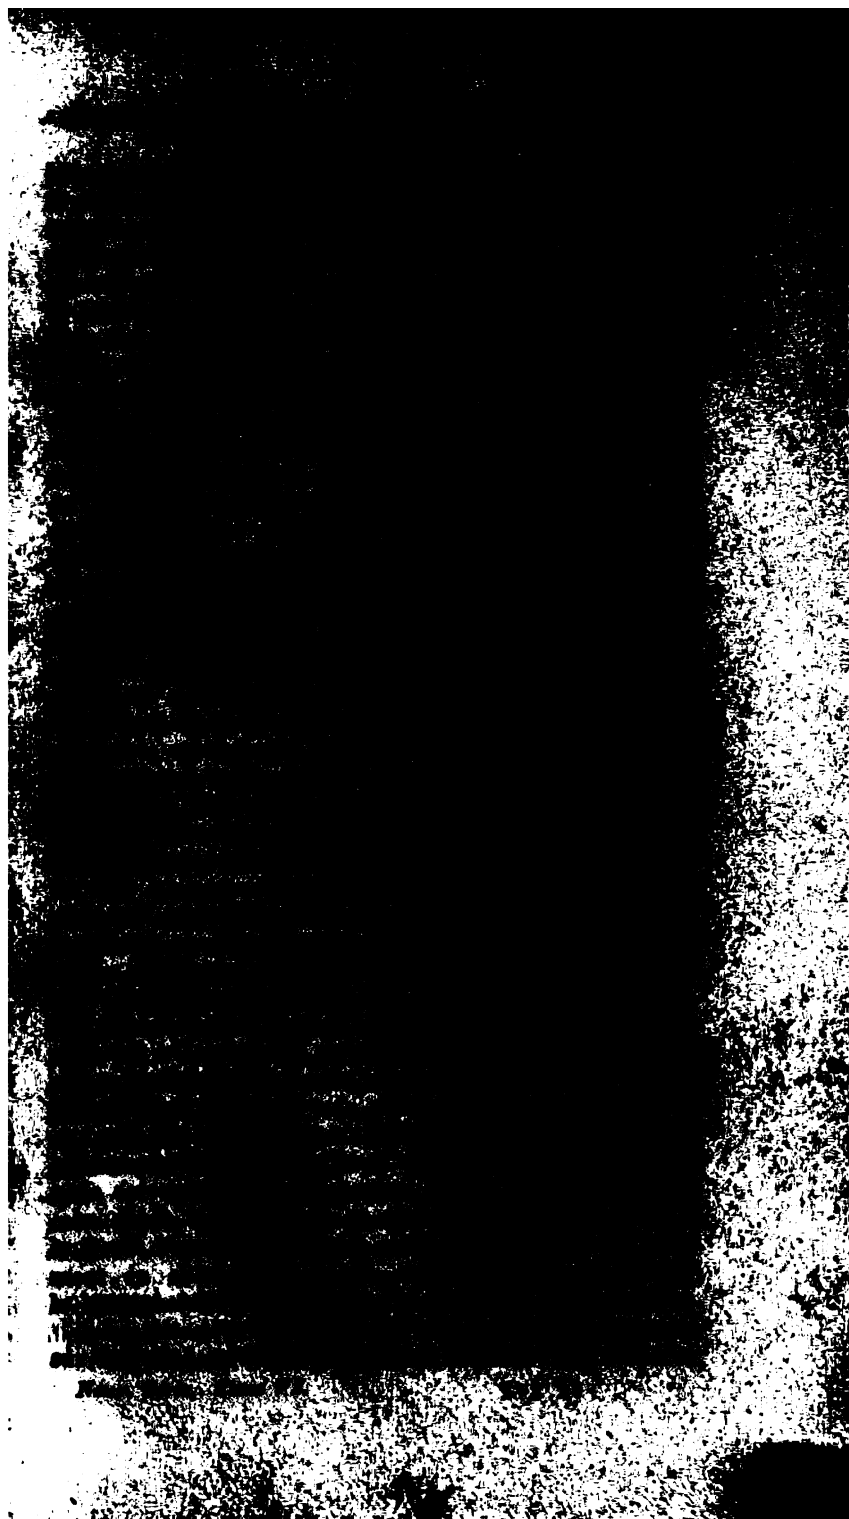

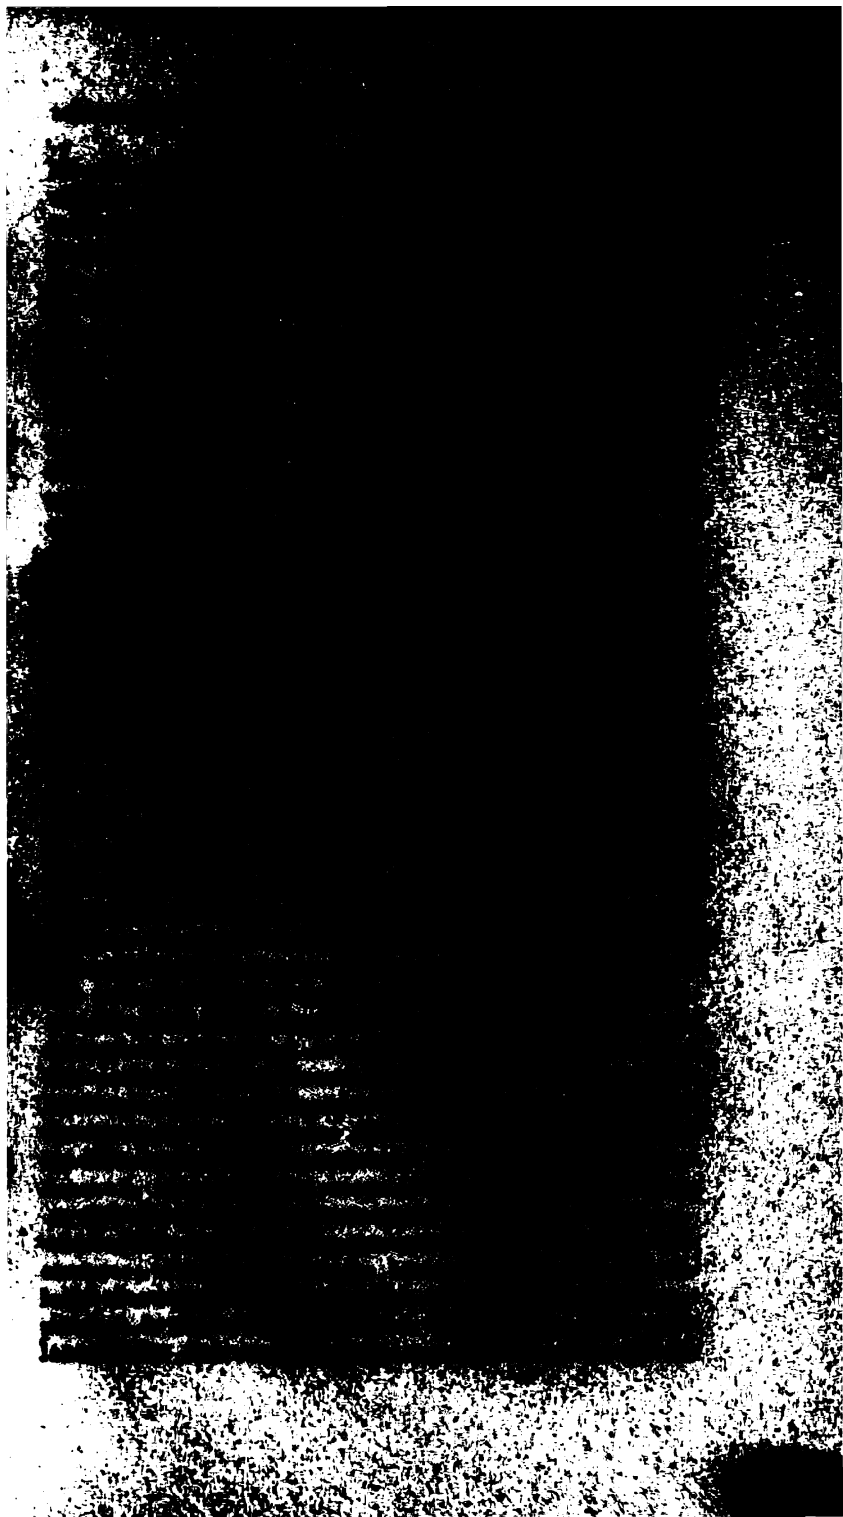

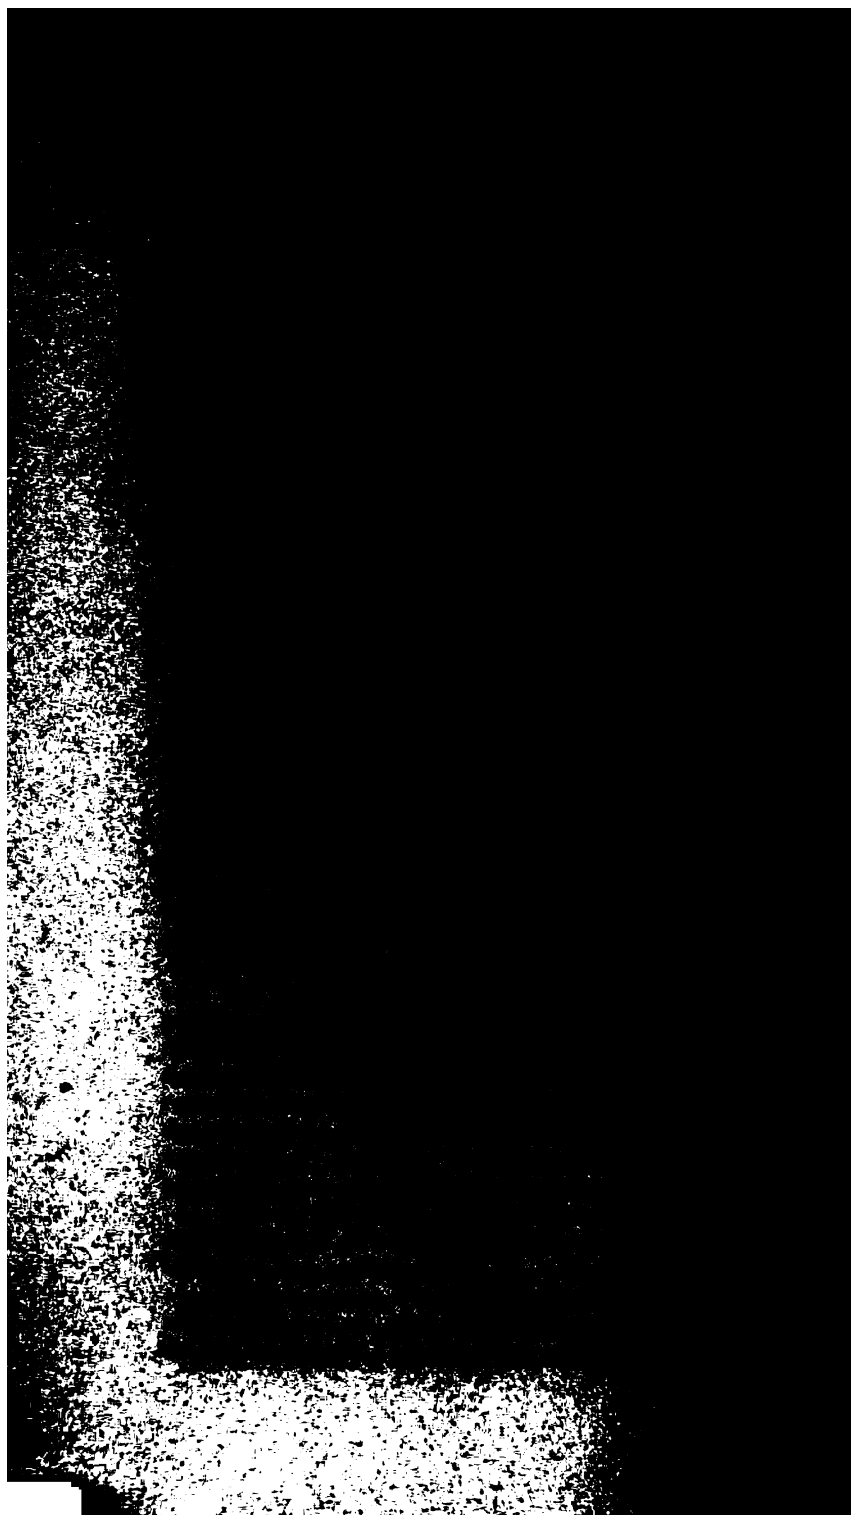

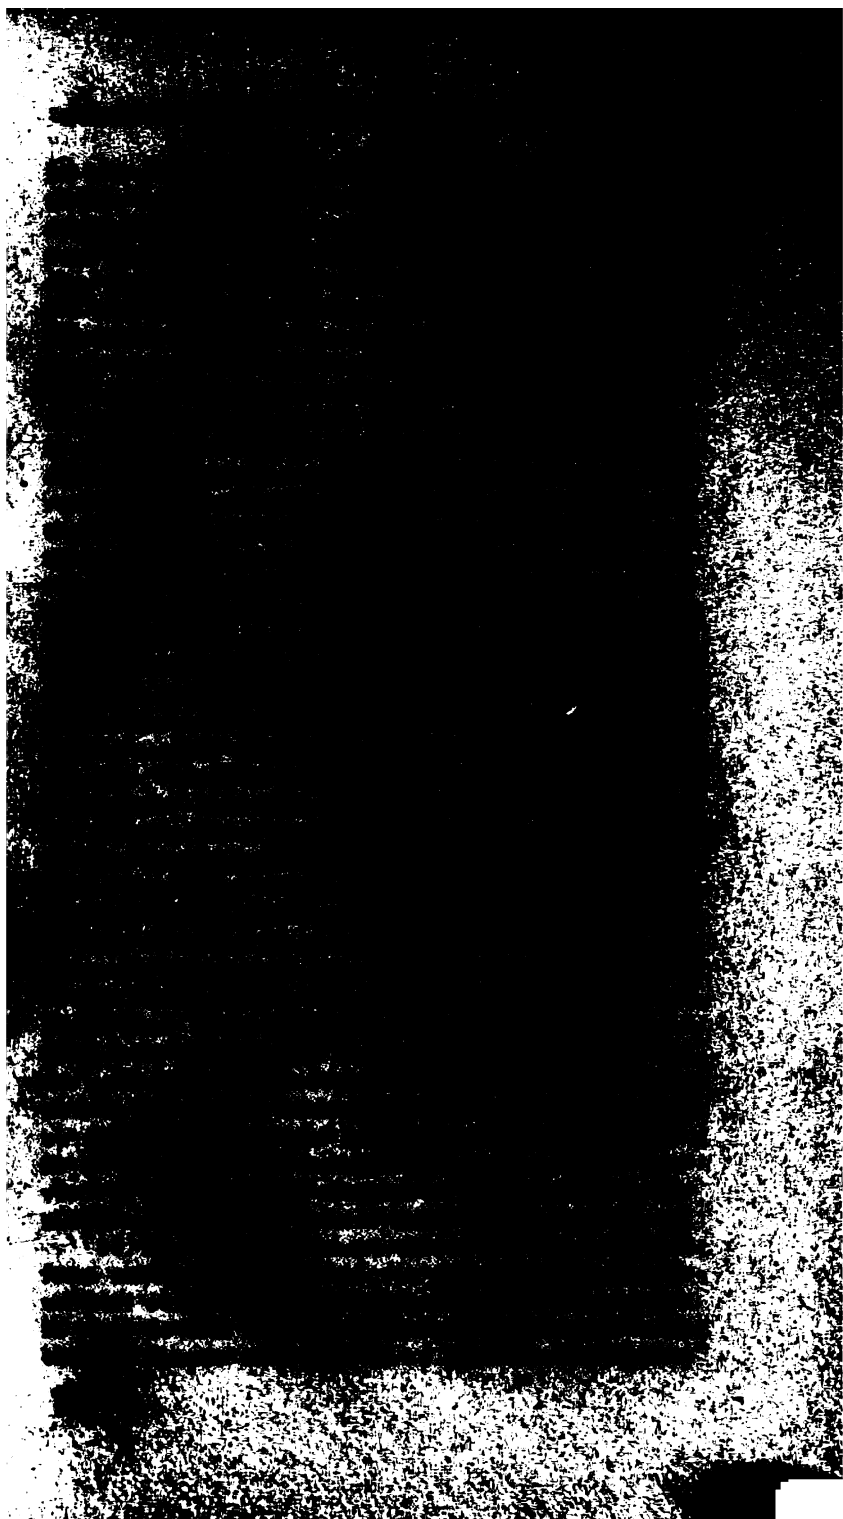

the 1990s, the number of people in the world who are undernourished has increased from 600 million to 800 million (FAO 1996).

There is a growing awareness of the need to improve the nutritional status of the world's population, and the World Health Organization (WHO) has set a target of halving the number of undernourished people by the year 2015 (WHO 1996).

One of the main reasons for the increase in undernourishment is the rapid population growth in developing countries, which has led to a corresponding increase in the demand for food. This has put a strain on the world's food resources, and has led to a situation where the demand for food is outpacing the supply.

Another major factor contributing to the increase in undernourishment is the unequal distribution of food resources. In many developing countries, a small proportion of the population owns a large proportion of the land, and this has led to a situation where the majority of the population is landless and dependent on the landowners for food.

The unequal distribution of food resources is a major barrier to achieving the target of halving the number of undernourished people by 2015. It is essential that the world's food resources are distributed more equitably, if this target is to be achieved.

There are a number of ways in which the world's food resources can be distributed more equitably. One way is to increase the production of food in developing countries, so that they can become self-sufficient in food. This can be done by providing technical assistance and financial support to the agricultural sector in these countries.

Another way to improve the distribution of food resources is to reduce the losses of food during storage and transport. In many developing countries, a large proportion of the food produced is lost due to poor storage and transport facilities. This can be reduced by investing in better storage and transport facilities.

Finally, it is essential that the world's food resources are protected from the effects of climate change. Climate change is a major threat to the world's food resources, and it is essential that we take action to reduce the greenhouse gas emissions that are causing climate change.

There are a number of ways in which we can reduce the greenhouse gas emissions that are causing climate change. One way is to switch from fossil fuels to renewable energy sources, such as wind and solar power. This can be done by providing financial support to the renewable energy sector.

Another way to reduce greenhouse gas emissions is to improve energy efficiency. This can be done by investing in energy-efficient buildings and appliances. This can be done by providing financial support to the energy-efficient sector.

Finally, it is essential that we protect the world's forests. Forests are a major source of carbon sinks, and they play a vital role in reducing the greenhouse gas emissions that are causing climate change. It is essential that we protect the world's forests from deforestation.

There are a number of ways in which we can protect the world's forests. One way is to provide financial support to the forestry sector in developing countries. This can be done by providing technical assistance and financial support to the forestry sector in these countries.

Another way to protect the world's forests is to reduce the demand for wood products. This can be done by promoting the use of alternative materials, such as bamboo and recycled wood. This can be done by providing financial support to the alternative materials sector.

Finally, it is essential that we protect the world's wetlands. Wetlands are a major source of carbon sinks, and they play a vital role in reducing the greenhouse gas emissions that are causing climate change. It is essential that we protect the world's wetlands from drainage.

There are a number of ways in which we can protect the world's wetlands. One way is to provide financial support to the wetlands sector in developing countries. This can be done by providing technical assistance and financial support to the wetlands sector in these countries.

1. The first part of the document is a list of names and dates, arranged in two columns. The names are written in a cursive script, and the dates are in a more formal, printed style. The list appears to be a record of some kind, possibly a roster or a list of events.

2. The second part of the document is a series of paragraphs, also written in cursive. The text is dense and difficult to read due to the handwriting and the quality of the scan. It appears to be a narrative or a report of some kind.

3. The third part of the document is a list of names and dates, similar to the first part. The names are written in a cursive script, and the dates are in a more formal, printed style. The list appears to be a record of some kind, possibly a roster or a list of events.

4. The fourth part of the document is a series of paragraphs, also written in cursive. The text is dense and difficult to read due to the handwriting and the quality of the scan. It appears to be a narrative or a report of some kind.

5. The fifth part of the document is a list of names and dates, similar to the first part. The names are written in a cursive script, and the dates are in a more formal, printed style. The list appears to be a record of some kind, possibly a roster or a list of events.

6. The sixth part of the document is a series of paragraphs, also written in cursive. The text is dense and difficult to read due to the handwriting and the quality of the scan. It appears to be a narrative or a report of some kind.

7. The seventh part of the document is a list of names and dates, similar to the first part. The names are written in a cursive script, and the dates are in a more formal, printed style. The list appears to be a record of some kind, possibly a roster or a list of events.

8. The eighth part of the document is a series of paragraphs, also written in cursive. The text is dense and difficult to read due to the handwriting and the quality of the scan. It appears to be a narrative or a report of some kind.

9. The ninth part of the document is a list of names and dates, similar to the first part. The names are written in a cursive script, and the dates are in a more formal, printed style. The list appears to be a record of some kind, possibly a roster or a list of events.

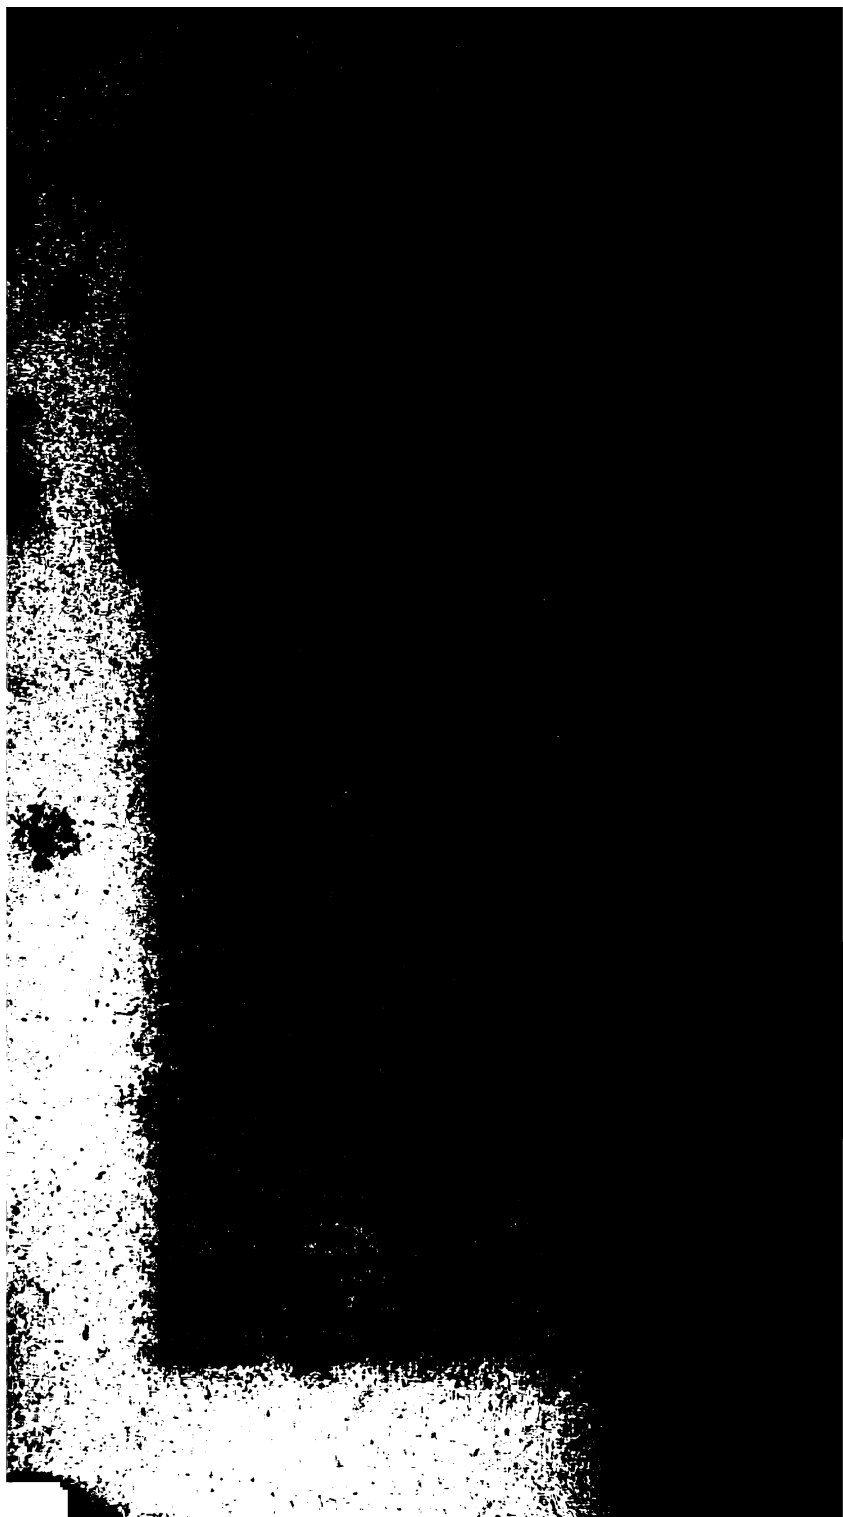

10. The tenth part of the document is a series of paragraphs, also written in cursive. The text is dense and difficult to read due to the handwriting and the quality of the scan. It appears to be a narrative or a report of some kind.

I have been thinking about you very much lately,
and wondering how you are getting along.
I hope you are well and happy.
I am still working hard at my job,
but I always find time to think of my friends.
I wish I could see you all again.
I will write soon.

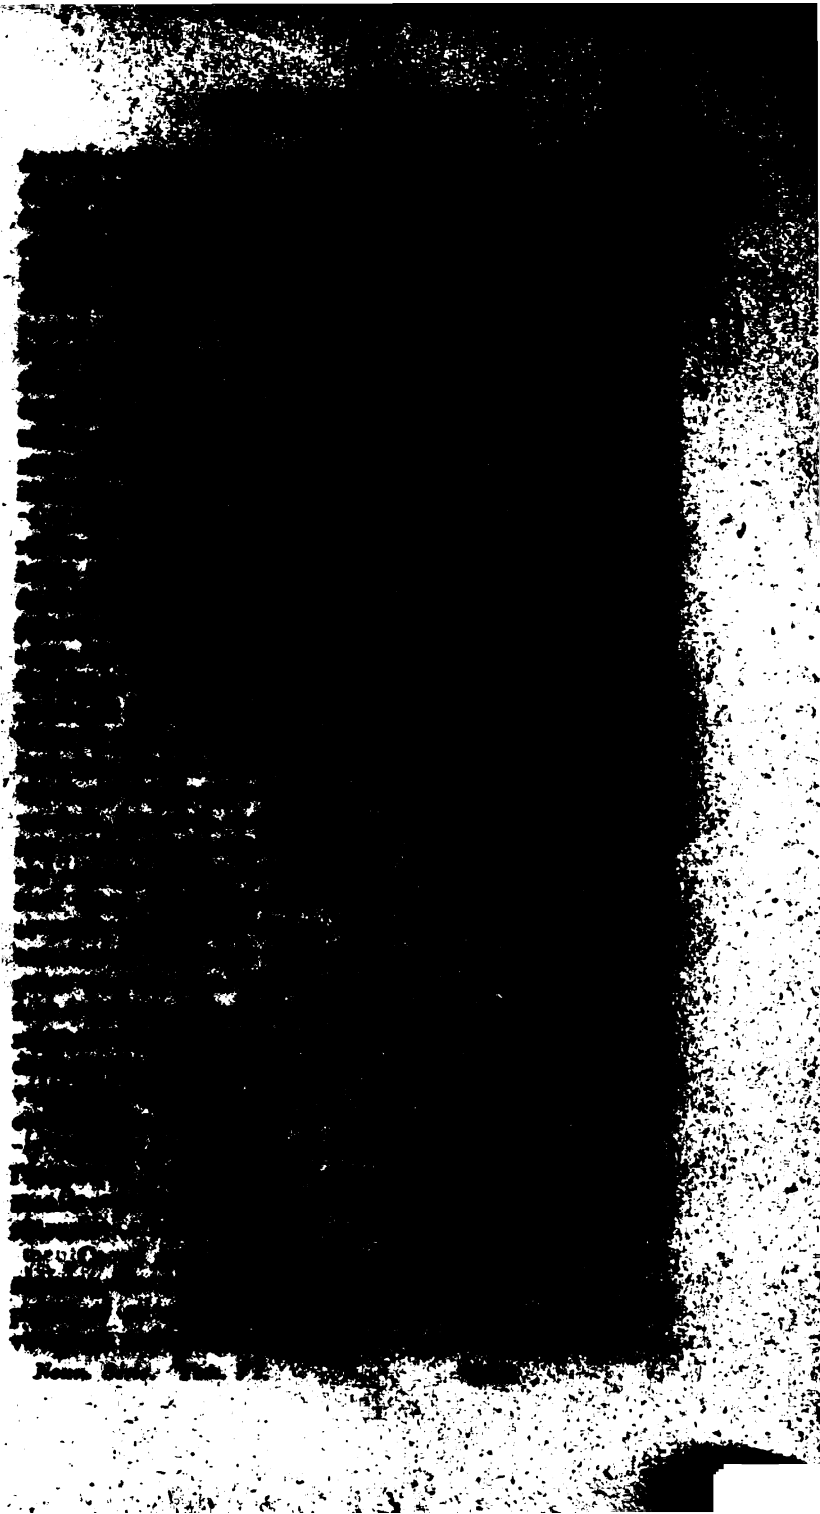

Your friend,
John Doe

[The following text is extremely faint and largely illegible due to heavy noise and low contrast in the original document. It appears to be a series of lines of text, possibly a list or a set of instructions, but the specific content cannot be accurately transcribed.]

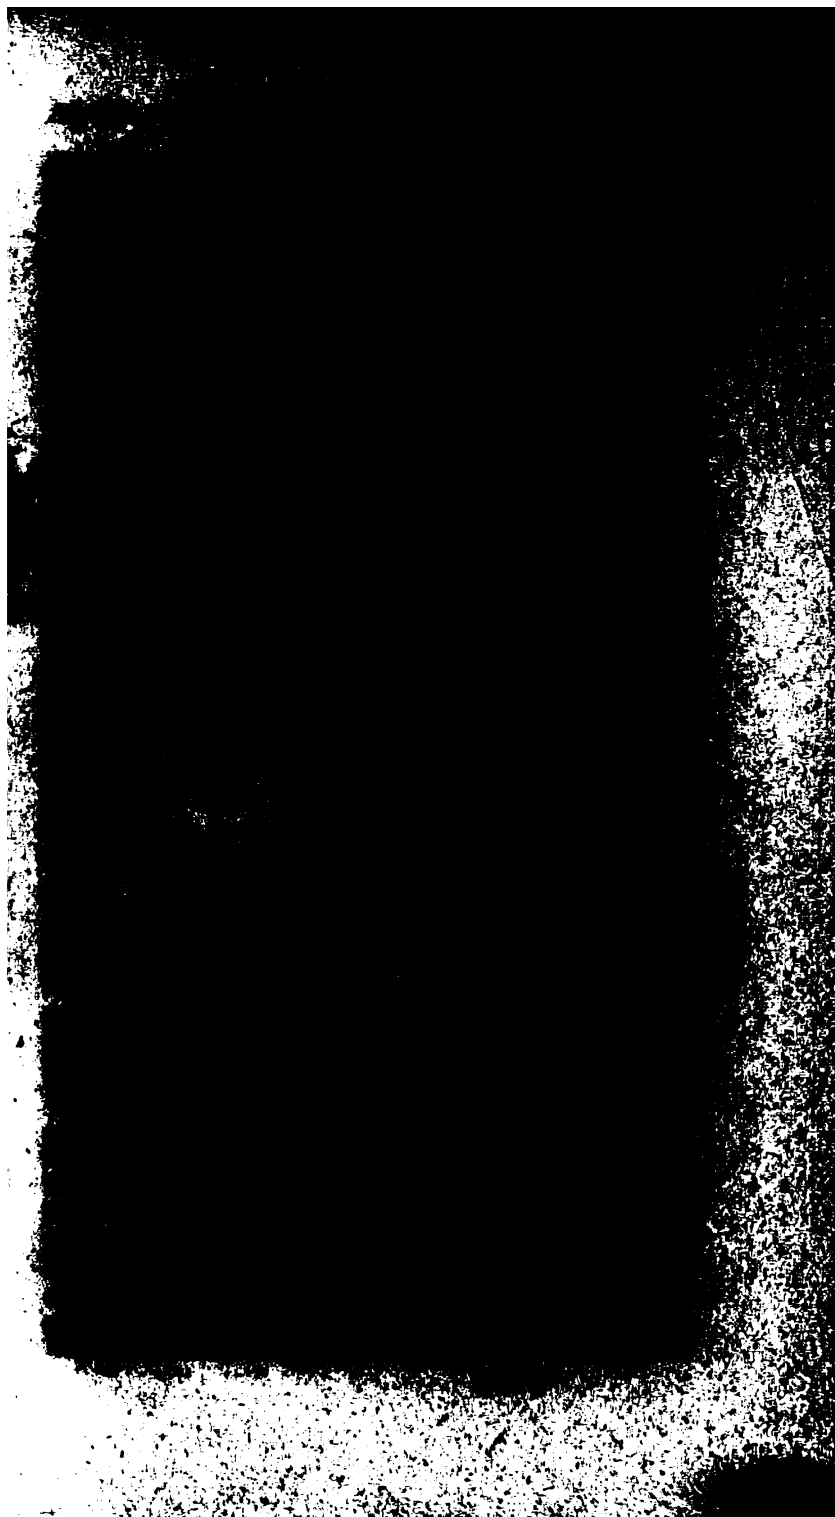

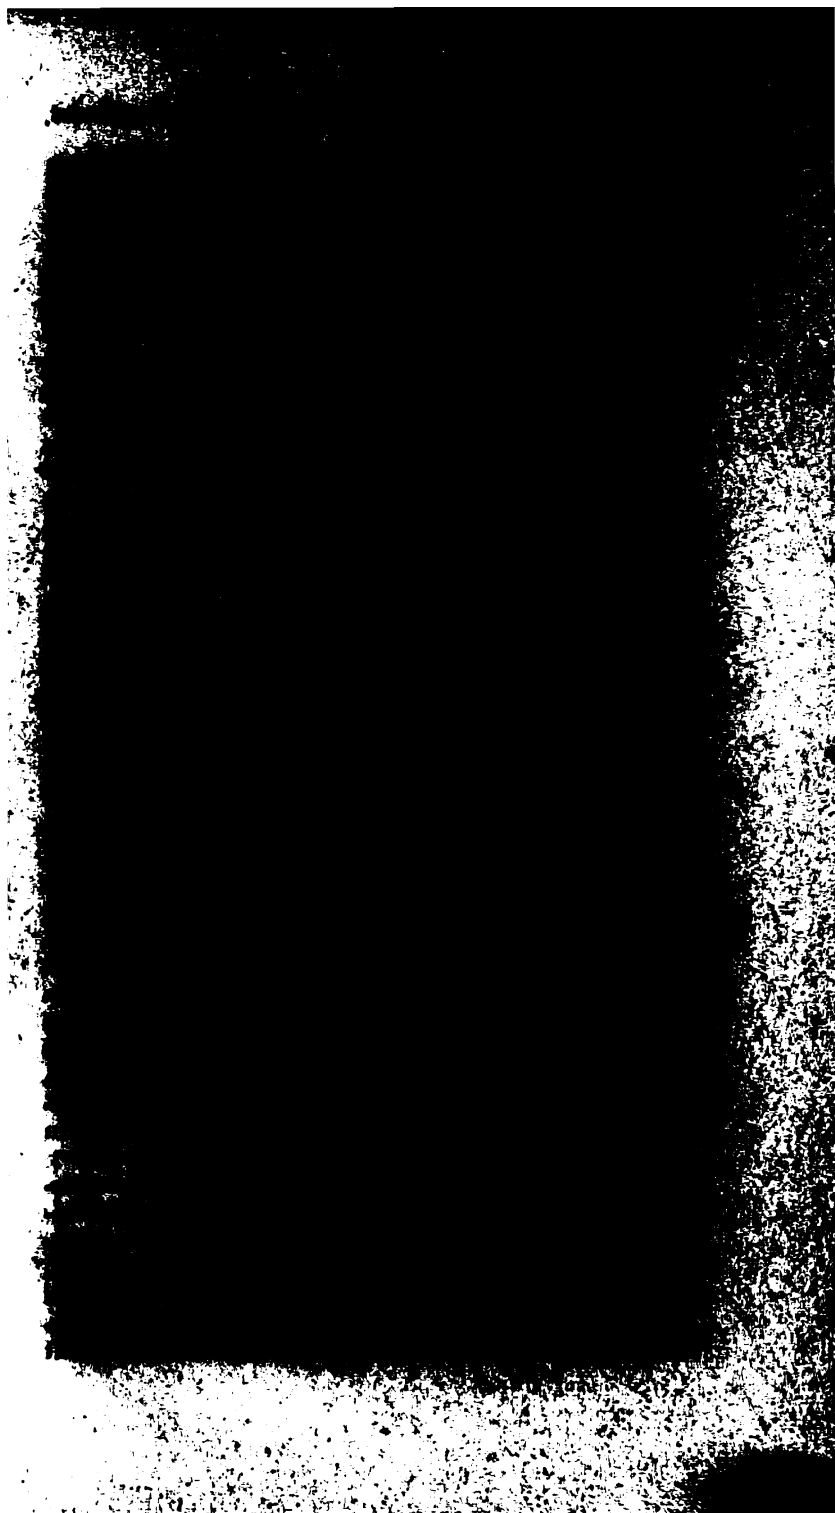

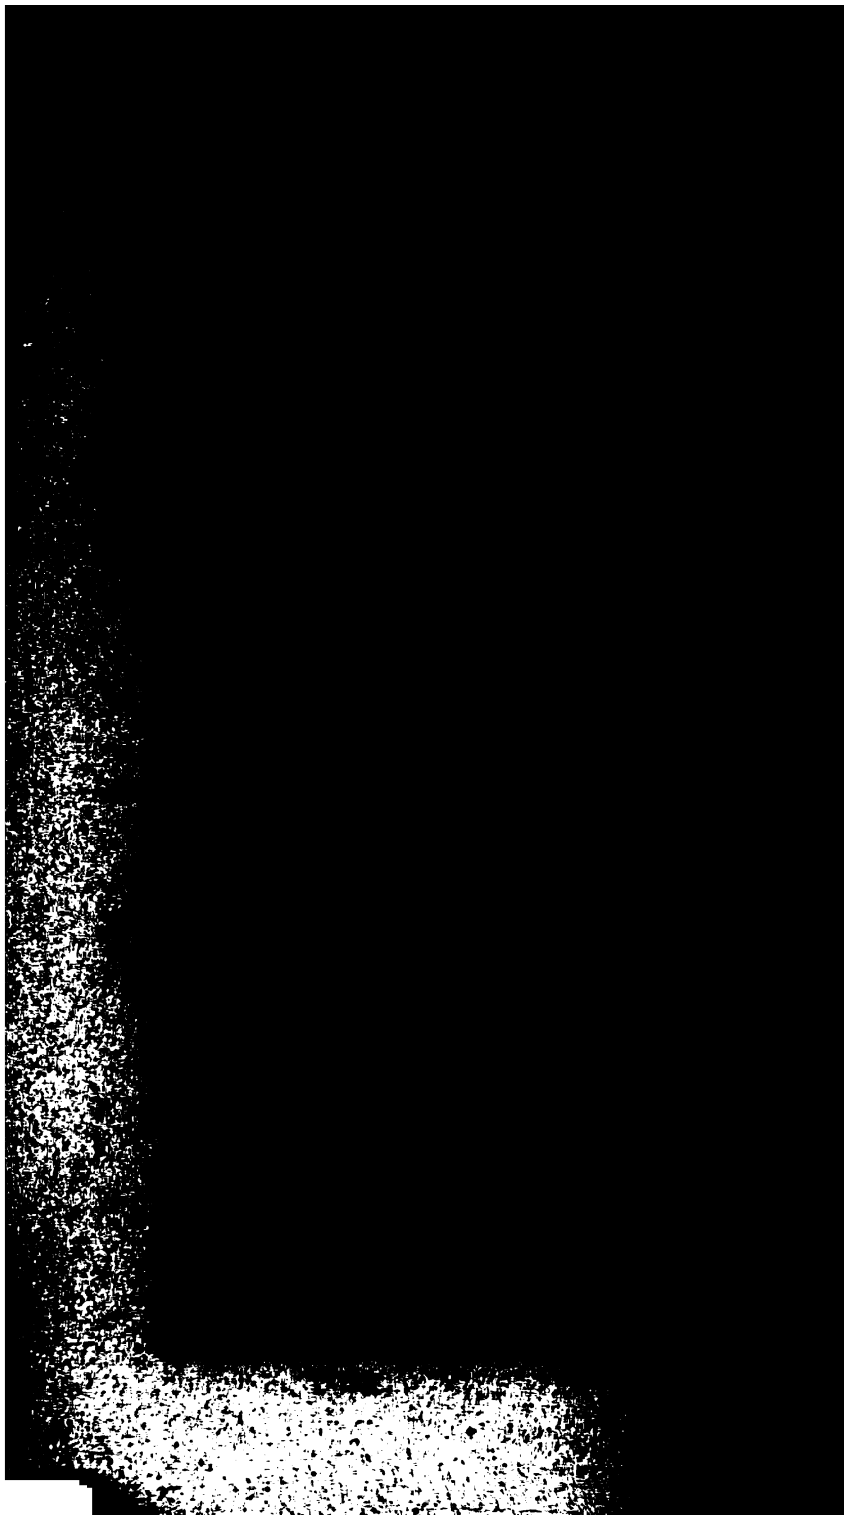

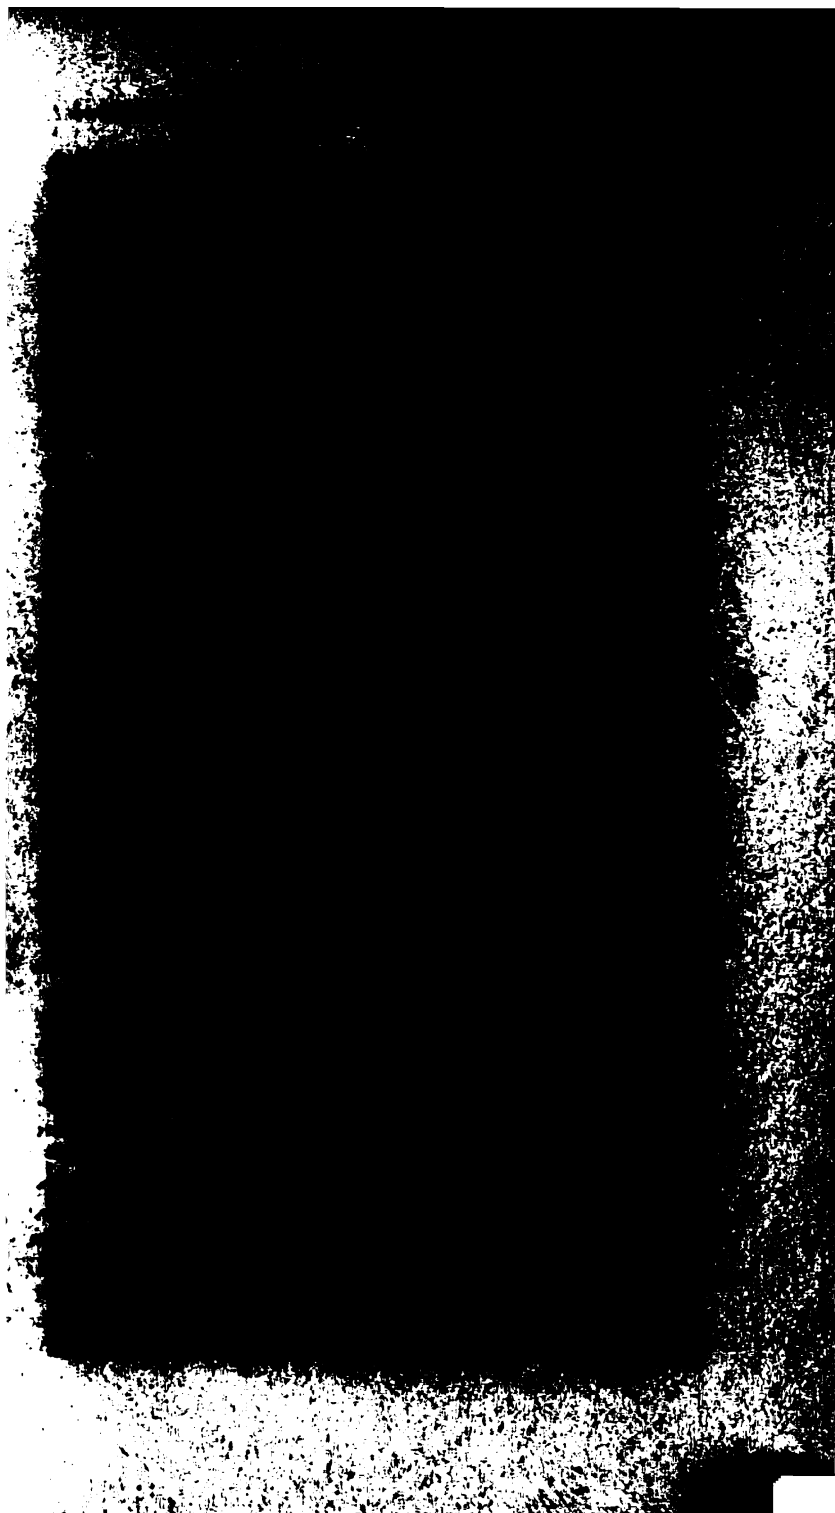

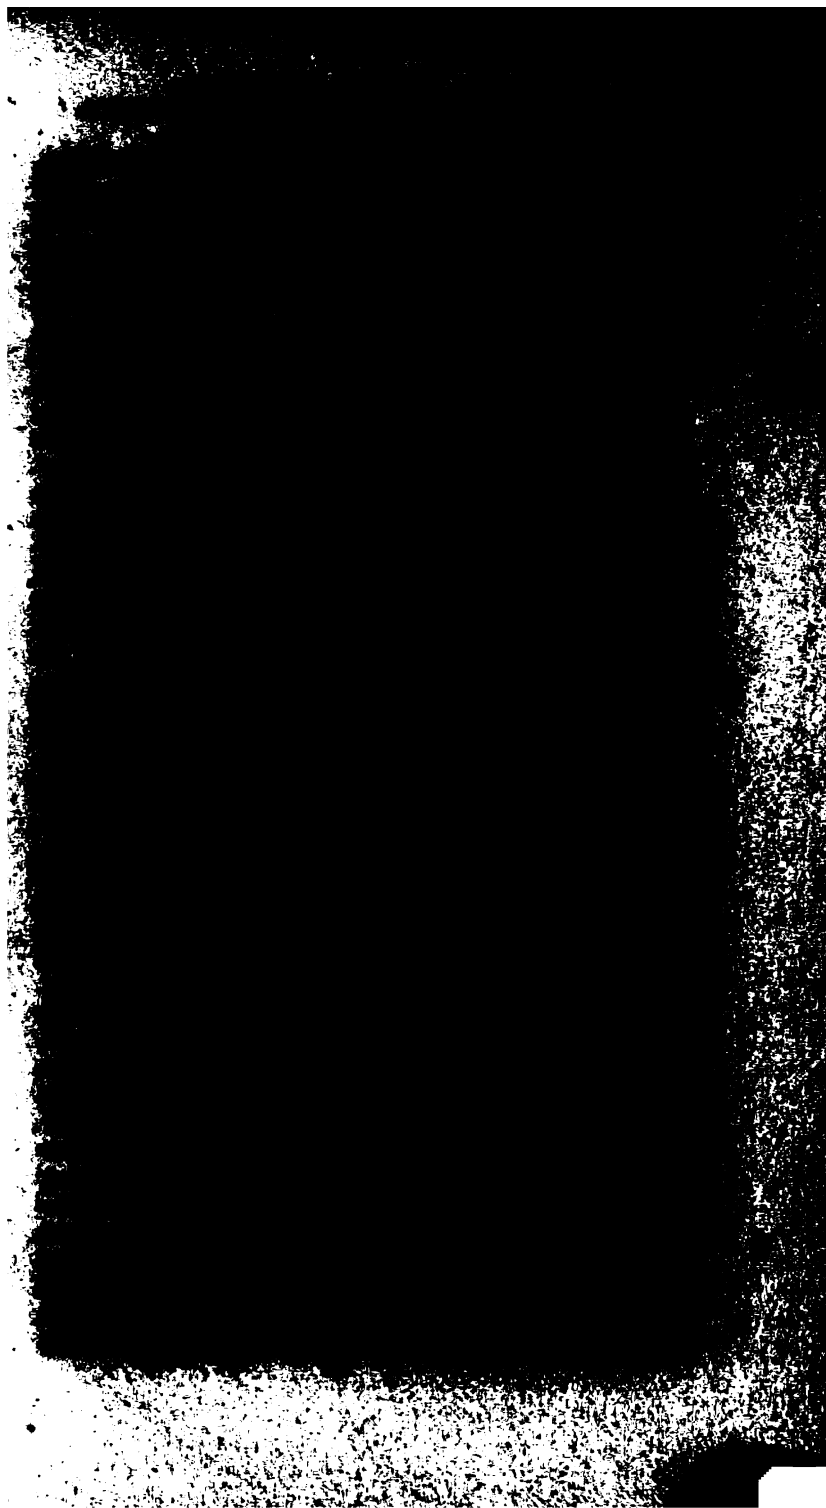

route naturelle sont survenus, tant dans l'administration intérieure de l'empire turc que dans ses relations extérieures avec les autres puissances, et Sa Majesté le Roi des Français et Sa Hautesse le Sultan sont convenus de régler de nouveau, par un acte spécial et additionnel, les rapports commerciaux de leurs sujets, le tout dans le but d'augmenter le commerce entre leurs Etats respectifs, comme dans celui de faciliter davantage l'échange des produits de l'un des deux pays avec ceux de l'autre.

A cet effet, ils ont nommé pour leurs plénipotentiaires,

Sa Majesté le Roi des Français. — M. Albin-Reine, baron Roussin, vice-amiral, pair de France, membre de l'Académie des sciences, grand-croix de l'ordre royal de la Légion-d'Honneur, décoré du grand ordre du Nichan Istihar, grand-croix de l'ordre grec du Sauveur, commandeur de l'ordre de la Croix du Sud du Brésil, son ambassadeur près la Sublime Porte;

Et Sa Hautesse le Sultan, — le très-excellent et très-distingué Mehemet-Nourry-Effendi, conseiller d'état au département des affaires étrangères, tenant le portefeuille de ce ministère par intérim, décoré de l'ordre du Nichan Istihar de première classe, grand-croix de l'ordre belge de Léopold, et le très-excellent et très-distingué Mustapha-Kiani-Bey, membre du conseil suprême d'état, président du conseil d'utilité publique et du commerce, ministre d'état de première classe, revêtu des décorations affectées à ces deux emplois;

Lesquels, après s'être donné réciproquement communication de leurs pleins pouvoirs, trouvés dans la bonne et due forme, sont tombés d'accord sur les articles suivans:

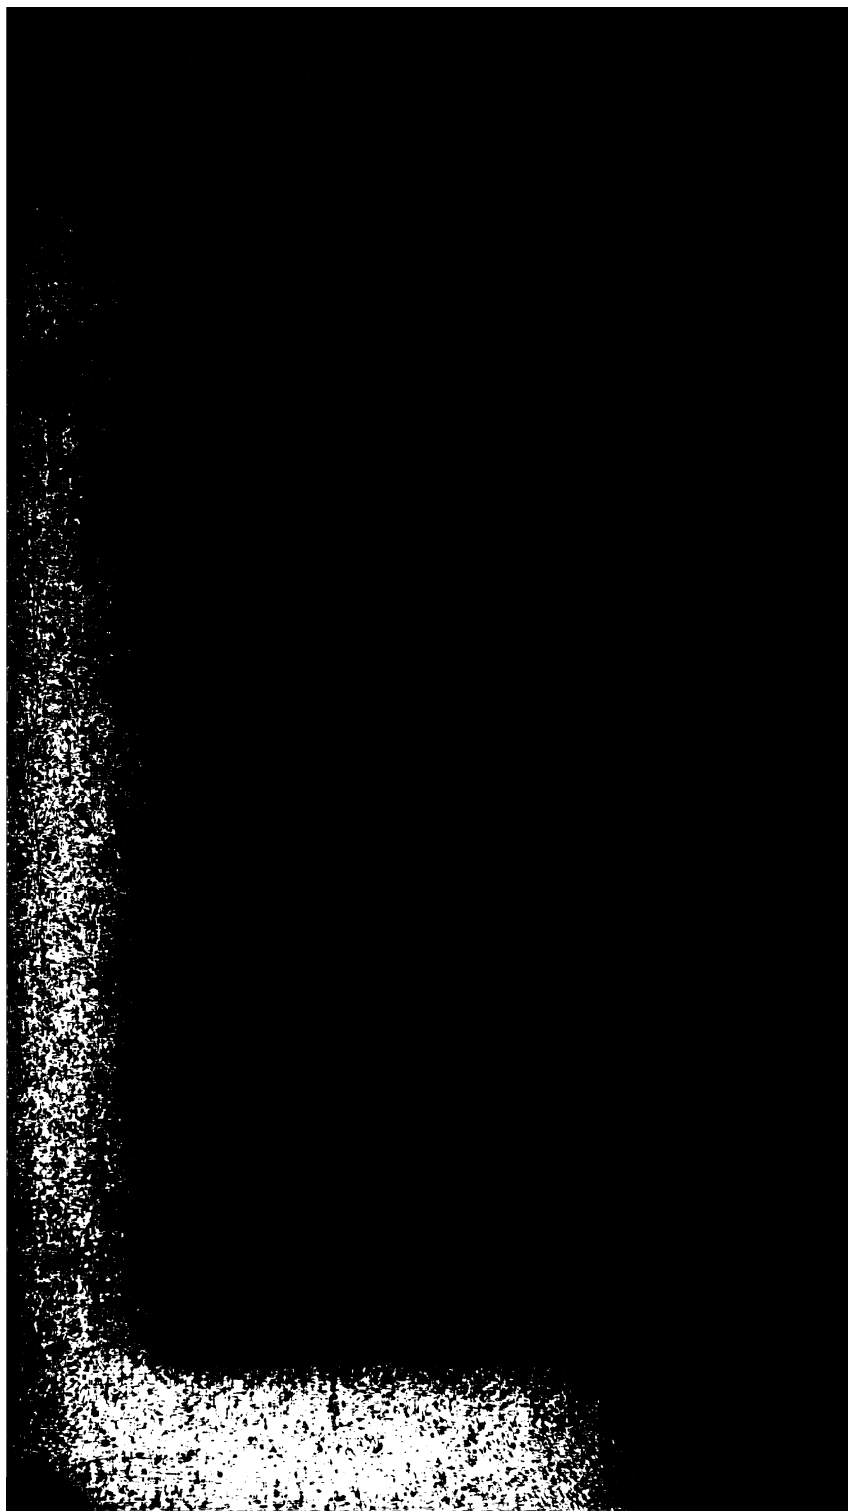

Art. 1er. Tous les droits, privilèges et immunités qui ont été conférés aux sujets ou aux bâtimens français par les capitulations et les traités existans sont confirmés aujourd'hui et pour toujours, à l'exception de ceux qui vont être spécialement modifiés par la présente convention; et il est, en outre, expressément entendu que tous les droits, privilèges et immunités que la Sublime Porte accorde aujourd'hui, ou pourra accorder à l'avenir, aux bâtimens et aux sujets de toute autre puissance étrangère, seront également accordés aux sujets et aux bâtimens français, qui en auront de 1858 droit l'exercice et la jouissance.

2. Les sujets de Sa Majesté le Roi des Français ou leurs ayant-cause pourront acheter dans toutes les parties de l'empire ottoman, soit qu'ils veuillent en faire le commerce à l'intérieur, soit qu'ils se proposent de les exporter, tous les articles, sans exception, provenant du sol ou de l'industrie de ce pays. La Sublime Porte s'engage formellement à abolir tous les monopoles qui frappent les produits de l'agriculture et les autres productions quelconques de son territoire, comme aussi elle renonce à l'usage des teskérés demandés aux autorités locales pour l'achat de ces marchandises, ou pour les transporter d'un lieu à l'autre, quand elles étaient achetées. Toute tentative qui serait faite par une autorité quelconque pour forcer les sujets français à se pourvoir de semblables permis ou teskérés sera considérée comme une infraction aux traités, et la Sublime Porte punira immédiatement avec sévérité tous vézirs ou autres fonctionnaires auxquels on aurait une pareille infraction à reprocher, et elle indemniserá les sujets français des pertes ou vexations dont ils pourront prouver qu'ils ont eu à souffrir.

3. Les marchands français ou leurs ayant-cause qui achèteront un objet quelconque, produit du sol ou de l'industrie de la Turquie, dans le but de le revendre pour la consommation dans l'intérieur de l'empire ottoman, paieront, lors de l'achat ou de la vente, les mêmes droits qui sont payés, dans les circonstances analogues, par les sujets musulmans ou par les étrangers les plus favorisés parmi ceux qui se livrent au commerce intérieur.

4. Tout article, produit du sol ou de l'industrie de la Turquie, acheté pour l'exportation, sera transporté, libre de toute espèce de charge et de droits, à un lieu convenable d'embarquement, par les négocians français ou leurs ayant-cause. Arrivé là, il paiera, à son entrée, un droit fixe de neuf pour cent de sa valeur, en remplacement des anciens droits de commerce intérieur supprimés par la présente convention. A sa sortie, il paiera le droit de trois pour cent anciennement établi, et qui demeure subsistant. Il est, toutefois, bien entendu que tout article acheté au lieu d'embarquement pour l'exportation, et qui aura déjà payé,

CHAPITRE II

Les conditions de la vie sociale sont généralement déterminées par les lois physiques et chimiques qui régissent la nature. Ces lois sont immuables et sont la base de toute civilisation.
L'homme ne peut que s'adapter à ces lois et les utiliser à son profit.
C'est pourquoi la science est si importante pour l'humanité. Elle nous permet de comprendre les lois de la nature et de les utiliser à notre avantage.
La science est la base de toute civilisation. Elle nous permet de progresser et de nous améliorer.
C'est pourquoi nous devons tous étudier la science et la faire progresser. C'est notre devoir.
La science est la base de toute

the 1990s, the number of people in the world who are undernourished has increased from 250 million to 800 million.

There are a number of reasons for this increase. One of the main reasons is the rapid population growth in the developing world. The world population is projected to reach 8 billion by the year 2025, with the majority of the increase occurring in the developing world.

Another reason for the increase in undernourishment is the rapid increase in the number of people living in poverty. In 1990, 1.2 billion people lived on less than $1 a day. By 2000, this number had increased to 1.6 billion, and by 2010, it is projected to reach 2 billion.

A third reason for the increase in undernourishment is the rapid increase in the number of people living in urban areas. In 1990, 50% of the world's population lived in urban areas. By 2000, this number had increased to 60%, and by 2010, it is projected to reach 70%.

There are a number of factors that contribute to the increase in undernourishment. These factors include rapid population growth, rapid increase in the number of people living in poverty, and rapid increase in the number of people living in urban areas.
